A-Ban Package Not Acceptable

... U. S. DISLIKES RUSS PLAN

Wshington (AP)—The United States will probably regard as unacceptable a Russian package deal for a limited nuclear test ban and a NATO-Warsaw Alliance on a nonaggression pact, U.S. officials said Wednesday night.

This reaction to Premier Khrushchev's new proposal was given to newsmen following two meetings by President Kennedy with top advisers and State Department consultations with envoys from Britain, France and West Germany.

In a major East Berlin speech, the Soviet leader proposed an east-west agreement to outlaw atomic testing except for underground shots and a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic and European Communist military alliances.

U.S. officials said after the strategy huddles here that:

—It is not clear from Khrushchev's remarks whether he proposed an inseparable package combining the two issues, but if he did the United States would probably deem this unacceptable.

—The nonaggression pact proposal involves a matter which all the NATO allies would have to consider, not just the United States.

—The United States and Britain prefer a comprehensive treaty banning all atomic testing, including underground, enforced by effective controls. But they have offered a partial ban against testing in the atmosphere, in space and underwater in the past and the United States still believes this would be a forward step.

Will Probe Stand

Officials suggested that Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, who leaves late next week for test ban negotiations in Moscow, will have a ready made opportunity to probe the Kremlin stand.

The officials also said the U.S. government has not yet arrived at a definite position concerning Khrushchev's offer although Kennedy gave it top priority in his first day back from his European trip. He held these meetings:

1. An hour-long morning gathering at the White House attended by disarmament chief William C. Foster, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Undersecretaries of State Harriman and George W. Ball, and other senior advisers on nuclear testing and foreign affairs.

2. Another hour-long meeting by the same group at the White House in late afternoon, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk also sitting in. The participants left by a side door, avoiding newsmen.

Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger declined comment except to say that "the President considers Mr. Khrushchev's speech a matter of importance."

Urgency was added to the deliberations by the fact that Harriman is due to leave for Moscow late next week for renewed negotiations on the nuclear test ban issue.

FAMILY DEATH CAR . . . lies under wheels of gravel truck.

Smashup Kills 4 Californians

Kearney (AP)—A California family of 4 was killed outright shortly before noon Wednesday when their car and a loaded gravel truck collided on U.S. Highway 30, about 6 miles east of Kearney.

State Trooper Duane Woerman identified the victims as Bertroe Wallace Parham, 26, of San Diego; his wife, Margaret Eileen, 24, and their children, Ronald Bert, 6, and Natalie Gay, 4.

The driver of the gravel truck, Bernie Schroeder of Kearney, escaped serious injury.

Woerman said indications were that either due to a flat tire or a faulty steering mechanism, the car veered into the path of the truck and was smashed broadside.

The truck and car were locked together, the car going into a ditch. Two trucks were called to the scene to separate the two vehicles.

The Parhams were en route to Chariton, Iowa, to live. Mrs. Parham was the daughter of Vernon D. White of Chariton.

Amendments Hike State Budget

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday adopted 43 Budget Committee-approved amendments to the 1963-65 appropriations bill, most of which covered money requirements for new programs enacted by the Legislature, and added some $5.1 million to the state's biennial spending bill.

The total bill now stands at $367.5 million.

During the two hours the Legislature worked on the bill Wednesday afternoon, lawmakers again turned down an effort from the floor to add $105,000 to the budget for the Vocational Technical School at Milford.

Controversy on state spending is not yet over, however, for as lawmakers adjourned for a long holiday weekend Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff served notice he has not yet ceased his efforts to add funds for the University of Nebraska.

Carpenter made the motion to advance the big budget bill off select file to its last step before final reading, then immediately moved to return the bill to select file to add $1 million to NU's budget.

Under legislative rules, once a bill has been moved off select file (where it can be amended only by unanimous consent) it can be returned to select file where specific amendments then can be adopted by 22 votes.

Carpenter suggested the lawmakers spend the holiday talking to their constituents about the proposal to add funds for the University.

He later told reporters the delay would allow time for NU alumni to build up pressure to get the added money for the institution.

Carpenter said if one were "going to place the blame where it belongs" for the University's failure to get what he terms adequate funds, the alumni would have to share a major portion of that blame "because they have never been interested" in fighting for more money.

His motion and its timing, he said would give alumni the "means and method" to get the job done.

"We couldn't attain it by reason and normal application of legislative processes, so we must resort to the same methods as others use to get legislation, and that is pressure," he declared.

Carpenter also said Frank Morrison "has been very lax and has given only lip service" to getting more money for the University. He suggested the alumni "should take note of that."

The Scottsbluff senator also stated he would move Monday to amend his motion for the University to include an addition of $250,000 for the state's 4 teachers colleges, and $160,000 more for the Milford school.

Most of the $5.1 million added Wednesday will come from the state's property tax-supported general fund. Of the total, $1.6 million for the state's share of the newly enacted Kerr-Mills medical aid program will be financed through a $2 addition to the head tax.

It was estimated that on the basis of the bill's standing at adjournment Wednesday it will be necessary to add something a little under one mill to the state's present property tax levy to finance state costs.

Butler Shaffer Bows Out Of GOP Position

Butler D. Shaffer of Lincoln has resigned his post as executive secretary of the Republican state central committee effective July 15.

Shaffer

Shaffer will assume a labor relations position in Lincoln.

Republican State Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury said he is already interviewing applicants for the party post, and hopes to recommend a replacement to the GOP state executive committee within 60 days.

Shaffer, 28, a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law and recipient of a doctorate in law from the University of Chicago, has served in his party position for the past 19 months.

In his letter of resignation, Shaffer told Denney and members of the executive committee:

"The most important thought I could express with regard to future Republican activities would be to urge the party to formulate a consistent policy in defense of laissez-faire capitalism.

"Economic freedom or economic collectivism—this is the issue, and we as Republicans ought to choose the former and cease trying to reach compromises that can only work to the detriment of freedom."

Damage Is Heavy In Fire At Bruning

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Bruning — An estimated 150,000 bushels of grain and the huge converted hangar in which it was stored fell victim to an afternoon fire Wednesday at the Bruning Air Base.

Fire departments from 6 nearby towns were credited with saving another 1½ million bushels which were threatened in nearby buildings. At least 50 volunteer firemen and 8 pumper trucks rushed to the former B24 base from Hebron, Geneva, Ohiowa, Bruning, Daykin and Alexandria.

The grain was owned by the NKC Grain Co., which leases the facilities from the State Aeronautics Department. Approximately 100,000 bushels of the charred grain is wheat, the balance milo and corn, according to NKC local manager Ray Dittmer of Ohiowa.

Mervin Branting, who resides on the base as manager for the state, said the blaze was discovered about 3:50 p.m. by grain company employes. The hangar, about 150 by 250 feet, was destroyed in little over an hour and firemen then concentrated on protecting other buildings.

"What really worried me was all the other grain, because the south wind was blowing toward it." said Branting. "We wouldn't have had a Chinaman's chance to save it without all the firemen who came."

Several small roof fires did spring up on the nearest hangar, as well as a number of grass fires up to several blocks away. The deactivated base's water system permitted the use of several thousand gallons to halt the flames.

Legislature Okays ETV Bill

. . . FINANCING APPROVED

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday on a 30-8 vote passed a bill creating a statewide educational television network and financing its first two years of development with $600,000.

Hours later, lawmakers adopted an amendment to the budget bill appropriating the money from the general fund.

The ETV bill, LB666, proposes creation of a 7-station network whose capital construction costs have been estimated at $3.1 million.

Federal Funds

Some $499,800 is anticipated from federal funds.

Lincoln KUON-TV will be developed to full-power potential, with its transmitter moved to Mead. New outlets will be constructed at Omaha, Lexington, North Platte, Alliance, Albion and Bassett.

Originating stations will be located at Lincoln and Omaha.

The bill becomes law upon signature of Gov. Frank Morrison.

A companion measure, LB667, establishing an ETV commission, was approved by the Legislature Tuesday.

Both bills were sponsored by Sens. Richard Marvel of Hastings, Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln and George Gerdes of Alliance.

Vote on final reading:

Poplars To Cover 'Super' Billboards

Omaha (UPI) — Fast-growing poplar trees will be used to cover up billboards along the Interstate Highway in Nebraska, according to G. C. Strobel, deputy state engineer.

He said Wednesday that billboard operators have been taking advantage of a quirk in the law in erecting the billboards. "We will violate no law either," Strobel said.

He said that the Unicameral enacted a law in 1961 intended to keep all billboards at an esthetic distance from the superhighway—660 feet on either side.

This state law, he said, was written to conform with the federal billboard control measure.

But, two areas do not come under the federal law—public road right of way in existence before 1956 and land within the acute angle formed when a public road intersects the Interstate Highway.

Advertisers have been placing their signs in the exempt triangles and on land formerly used for county roads which were abandoned because of the Interstate, Strobel said.

Lombardy poplars backed up by other trees will be planted in front of the billboards so that they will not be visible from the Interstate, he said.

Strobel said that the continuing landscape program on the Interstate route through Nebraska will begin planting west of Lincoln this fall and next spring.

It's Up To Government To Head Off Rail Strike'

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz virtually conceded Wednesday that it will be up to the administration, with congressional backing, to head off a nationwide railroad strike before the work rules talk deadline expires next week.

There was no indication what steps might be taken to avert a strike.

Wirtz told a news conference it is "exceedingly doubtful" that collective bargaining can settle the dispute. But he added a hopeful footnote that this approach isn't being abandoned, saying:

"We will exhaust every possibility still of finding some basis for settlement but that possibility is remote."

The railroads' chief spokesman reported a "complete breakdown" of talks that have been going on since June 15 at President Kennedy's request.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said the unions have been notified that new work rules will be put into effect July 11. The railroads say these rules will eliminate unnecessary "featherbedding" jobs.

Truce Expires

The timing announced by the railroads, 12:01 a.m. on Thursday of next week, was picked because that is when an extension of a truce obtained by Kennedy expires. He said unless the dispute was settled by July 10 he would "make such recommendations to the Congress as these circumstances appear to dictate."

Kennedy said unless the two sides can settle their 4-year-old dispute "there will be no alternative to the enactment of new legislation which will protect the public against a loss of its rail transport."

Last-ditch efforts to budge the talks off dead-center were made Wednesday by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who once again met with the two sides. He conceded beforehand that so far no significant progress had been made. Earlier mediation efforts were made by Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds.

Talks Futile

The railroads' indication that further talks appear futile was given at a news conference by their chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference.

He accused the 5 operating unions of bringing to an end "the hollow mockery of collective bargaining on the issues." He said they had refused to accept any of the recommendations of either of the two presidential boards which had been named to help solve the long disagreement.

But Wolfe said the railroads still would consider any "constructive suggestions by the President, the secretary of labor, or any other interested party."

The railroads said they expect Kennedy to step in and prevent any national strike.

Court OKs Continued Studies Of Krebiozen

Chicago (UPI) — The government Wednesday disclosed some of its findings concerning the controversial cancer drug krebiozen and won court permission to continue its investigation.

Federal District Court Judge Julius Hoffman turned down a plea from Dr. Steven Durovic, developer of krebiozen, for a preliminary injunction which would have hobbled the Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) investigation of the drug.

Durovic charged harassment by FDA agents, but his attorneys were unable to proceed with the case on an emergency basis Wednesday and Hoffman said it would have to wait its turn on the court calendar.

The government's answering brief contained new information on krebiozen, a "mystery drug" obtained from the blood of horses which has inspired one of the greatest medical controversies of the decade.

The brief said government agents had found that:

—A check on the number of horses killed showed that less than half the sufficient amount of substance had been obtained to fill the 1.5 million ampules purchased for krebiozen.

—"The conditions of pretreatment inspection of the horses, of injecting the animals, of selection of animals for bleeding, of bleeding, and of handling the blood and plasma met none of the basic requirements of current good manufacturing practice."

Durovic, a refugee Yugoslav physician, maintains he discovered krebiozen in Argentina and brought the formula to the United States where Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, one of the nation's foremost pathologists, became its chief scientific sponsor.

Paul VI May Be 1st Pontiff To Visit U.S.

Vatican City (UPI) —Pope Paul VI may become the first pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church to visit the United States.

A high Vatican source said there was a possibility the new Pope might visit the New World if an "opportune occasion" presented itself.

Any visit, however, probably would not be made until after the 1964 presidential electicon.

Possibility of the visit emerged following President Kennedy's private meeting with the Pope Tuesday.

Such a history-making voyage on the part of newly crowned Pope Paul could not possibly come before the end of the Ecumenical Council, the source said. The council begins its second session Sept. 29. No closing date has been set.

The source also said that the Pope would not come to the United States in an election year and probably would not even be invited then.

King Of Belgium Nixes Resignation Of Government

Brussels, Belgium (AP)—King Baudouin refused Wednesday to accept the resignation of the Belgian government presented Tuesday by Premier Theo Lefevre.

A palace communique announced that the king asked the premier and his ministers to have "another try" at solving the bitter dispute over the official status of the country's two languages — Flemish and French — in the Brussels suburbs.

Violence Won't Deter Negro Drive For Integration, NAACPers Report

Chicago (AP) — Field secretaries of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People unanimously agreed Wednesday that the pace of integration cannot be slowed even if it results in violence.

Nine of the 14 secretaries, co-workers of the slain Medgar Evers, said they do not want violence but are not afraid to face it.

The secretaries, who are directly responsible for directing and coordinating local efforts in the NAACP civil rights drive discussed their problems in a round-table interview with the Associated Press.

The consensus:

1. There will be no letup in Negro pressure for equality.
2. Violence and martyrdom are not sought but civil strife will not deter Negroes.
3. Complete desegregation will come sooner than anyone has predicted.
4. The ultimate aim of school desegregation is racial balance in all schools, south as well as north.

Robert W. Saunders of Tampa, Fla., said the drive to end racial imbalance in northern schools resulting from segregated living conditions would, in time, be extended to the south.

"When we have legal desegregation," Saunders said, "we will still have segregated schools because of racially segregated neighborhoods."

"What we want," said Althea Simmons of Los Angeles, "is racially balanced schools throughout the nation, south as well as north."

"The Negro is not afraid to die," said L. C. Bates of Little Rock, Ark.

"The Negro is no longer afraid," said W. C. Patton of Memphis, Tenn. "He has learned that if he can die for his country, he can die for his race."

Leon Cox of Atlanta, Ga., said: "This thing has snowballed faster than anyone expected and it will bring about an end to segregation sooner than anyone expected."

The secretaries would not make any predictions as to time but Harold Strickland of Columbus, Ohio, said, "People who used to talk in terms of 10 or 20 years are way out of date."

The workers rejected talk of compromise.

"Pressure works," Saunders said. "Sometimes nothing else will."

Why has the Negro given sudden public expression of dissatisfaction which so long has remained hidden?

"We have found a way of expressing discontent," said Bates. "For a long time we groped around, not knowing what to do. First we tried the courts, now we've found direct action."

U.S. Rejects Demand For Release Of Russians

Washington (AP)—The United States rejected Wednesday a Soviet demand for the immediate release of a Russian couple seized with two other persons Tuesday night on spy charges.

The Soviet charge d'affaires protested that the Russians, Ivan Dmitrievich Egorov, 41, and his wife, Aleksandra, 39, are entitled to diplomatic immunity and that their arrest was unlawful.

At the same time, Platon D. Morozov, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, protested to U.N. undersecretary C. V. Narasimhan, contending that the couple have diplomatic immunity from arrest. Narasimhan said he did not think so, but promised to pass the protest along to U.N. Secretary General U Thant, who is in Hungary on a European tour.

Egorov, a $10,000-a-year personnel officer in the United Nations Secretariat at New York, was arrested with his wife at their Flushing, L.I., apartment.

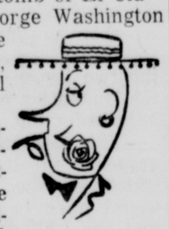

They were charged with conspiring with Soviet military intelligence agents in espionage activities against U.S. missile sites and other military facilities.

Ignored in the diplomatic exchange were two mysterious Washington members of the alleged Communist spy team, who for reasons known only to themselves had appropriated the names of unsuspecting American citizens.

These two, taken in an FBI raid on a modest apartment in the Georgetown section, were masquerading as Robert Keistutis Baltch and Joy Ann Garber Baltch, but the FBI listed them as "John and Jane Doe."

POSTCARD by Stan Kalapalena

In the ancient city of Burgos in Old Castille yesterday, a young lady dropped a rose on the knightly tomb of El Cid—a sort of George Washington and Billy the Kid in one, the original good guy.

The morning paper reports regretfully: "She was a beautiful French girl who did not leave her name. She dropped a red rose on the tomb and left without explanation."

The Cid rode for Christendom against the infidel Moor early in the year 1000.

He whopped the bad guys at Coimbre in Portugal. And eventually drove them out of the sunny province of Valencia.

When his wife and Christian knights were forced to retreat after his death, they say that his bones were mounted in armor on his horse. When the Moors saw this, they went thataway.

Some 40 years later, he was immortalized in "The Poem of The Cid". It was written by a troubador who forgot to byline it. It is something like the song about Sam Bass who was killed trying to rob the bank at Round Rock, Texas.

"Sam Bass came from Indiana
"A cowboy for to be.
"A kinder-hearted feller
"You'll seldom ever see."

As many Americans have seen, the story of The Cid Campeador—(the name comes from the Arabic "sidi" or "our lord") — was made into a movie. I don't think it was very successful.

Anyway, the story is very much like a TV cowboy movie.

The Cid is run off the old ranch. (The king did it just like the bad guy in the bank forecloses mortgages.)

He rides out of Burgos. All the townsfolk watch from behind the windows.

One little girl risks the King's displeasure. She goes out and says, "Adios".

The Cid rides off into the sunset.

When he comes back, he's got a posse of knights with him.

The Moors are defeated. The Cid is a hero.

To understand Spain, you have to remember that it was occupied by the Moors from 711. Roderick, the Visigoth King, fell at Toledo.

They were finally expelled. The last Moorish King of Granada surrendered to Ferdinand and Isabella in 1492, the year Columbus sailed for America.

It was a knightly age. Moorish champions fought single-o with Christian knights—exactly like the meeting of the Good Guy and the Bad Guy on the Western street.

"Draw fust, stranger!"

"No, YOU draw fust, Bad Guy!"

There is a nice little story at the siege of Granada. Four Christian knights disguised themselves as Turkish knights to battle for the freedom of a Christian maiden.

Knights came from all over the Christian world to challenge Moorish knights.

It was a great age of chivalry. For on each side, there were rewards in his heaven for the winner.

This was all half a century before the First Crusade. Spain was the very front line of Christianity.

The Mediterranean (the good guys' home town) was a bad guys' lake. And in Spain, the bad guys were moving right into the ranch.

The Cid rode into this melee of low-down varmints. His horse was called Babieca and his sword was called Colada.

He was the good guy. The defender of the faith. The revolutionary general. The George Washington of the day.

It's a Fourth of July story

Every 'Litter' Can Frustrates Space Agency

Washington (AP)—Unpatriotic beer can litterbugs are frustrating the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's efforts to rid an instrument test site of metallic objects.

So far, dozens of beer cans, two auto engines and an old kitchen stove have been dropped along a road near the test area in nearby Prince Georges County, Md.

NASA says the debris is "magnetizing an area that shouldn't be magnetized," thus interfering with sensitive devices for spacecraft.

The space agency picked the area because it had no mineral-bearing rocks. It even cleared away the smallest nails.

Now, NASA is having to organize a security detail to try to keep the area debris-free.

Cooks Busy As Festival Nears

Lincoln Star Special

Clarkson — The old adage of "Too many cooks spoil the broth" is not true. Anyhow, that's what the cooks at Clarkson are out to prove.

They're preparing an old-fashioned Czech menu fit for good King Wenceslaus himself—and the proportions are big enough to go with it. The event—the first annual Czech festival July 6 and 7.

The Catholic Ladies Altar Society, for example, plans to make 2,000 knedleki (potato dumplings). According to Mrs. Frank Bos, dinner chairman, it will take 160 pounds of potatoes for this many dumplings.

"We've got so many to make that the women are going to peel the potatoes on Friday and then make all those dumplings on Saturday," she explained.

It's going to take some 25 to 30 gallons of sauerkraut to complete this Czech specialty of sauerkraut and dumplings.

There will be other Czech delicacies too—200 pounds of wedding sausages (a beef and pork sausage usually made only for weddings), 1,440 kolaches (fruit filled sweet rolls), 1,400 bread rolls and enough apple strudel to stretch 80 feet.

There's plenty for those who like American food too. There'll be 150 fried chickens, 30 gallons of giblet dressing, 30 gallons of corn and several thousand cups of coffee.

Folk Dancers

Just as for the king's banquet, there will be entertainment, too. On Saturday it starts at 1 p.m. There will be band concerts, a travelogue movie of Czechoslovakia, various local speakers, a polka dance and a performance of the Clarkson Czech folk dancers. This dancing group is made up of 8 local young couples who learned the dances native to Czechoslovakia and sewed the colorful traditional costumes worn centuries ago.

On Sunday, the Clarkson ladies will serve the Czech dinners from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Featured speakers for the afternoon will be Sen. Roman Hruska and Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison.

Also in the afternoon, Dr. Vladimir Kucera of the Nebraska Historical Society will present a live program of singing. Sokol gymnastic exhibitions and Beseda folk dancing.

In the evening, the Clarkson folk dancers will perform and there will be a Czech one-act play presented by a cast from Tabor, S.D. The celebration will end with a pavement dance.

Mrs. Frank Bos, left, and Mrs. Eldon Hockamier are sprinkling raisins on one of the apple strudels for the festival dinner. Two of the Hockamier children couldn't wait till the strudel was out of the oven, so decided to help themselves to some apples.

Keya Paha School Continuation OKd

Springview (AP) — Residents of the Keya Paha High School District have voted overwhelmingly in favor of continuing the district.

The vote was 233 for dissolution and 613 against it. The issue needed a 55% majority and received only a little more than 26%.

The dissolution had been requested by 5 members of the school district.

Nebraska Is Backed For '67 YR Meet

Nebraska's Young Republicans are making efforts to draw the national Young Republican convention to Nebraska in 1967, the state's centennial year.

Nebraska's delegation to the national Young Republican convention in San Francisco last week contacted a delegation from nearly every state, said Ron Hortsman, chairman of the Lancaster County Young Republicans.

The delegates were told Nebraska wanted the convention in 1967, he said.

The convention would attract from 1,500 to 2,000 delegates, many of whom would bring their wives, to the state.

There is a precedent for holding the convention in small midwestern cities, as both Des Moines, Ia., and Rapid City, S.D., have been the host.

By the 1965 convention Horstman said, Nebraska ought to have decided which city in the state it wants to boost for the 1967 convention.

Loup Water Rights Fight Advocated

Columbus (UPI) — Mayor Leo Kuntzelman warned Wednesday that the water intake and the sewage outlets of cities up and down the Loup River were threatened by the "critically low flow" of water in the river this year.

Other officials claimed the economic future of the area was in jeopardy.

Kuntzelman spoke at a special meeting of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee. The committee laid plans for a series of mass meetings to alert residents in the Lower Loup and Platte valleys to the problem.

Meanwhile, at North Bend, officials of the Lower Loup-Platte Association held an emergency meeting to plot strategy for bringing what they called the "water crisis" to the attention of state and federal agencies.

"It's time we started fighting for our water rights," Kuntzelman said in Columbus. "We need a public outcry and public support," he said.

Tom Eason of North Bend, president of the Lower Loup-Platte Association, said, "The sad facts are that if people would wake up and get aroused—like they will when we run out of water—then we'll get some action."

Eason said the association, which has members from Genoa to Valley along the Loup and Platte rivers, failed to arrive at any definite plans for solving the problem.

He said the only answer is construction of a dam to create a reservoir in the Fullerton area, and the federal Bureau of Reclamation earlier this year issued a feasibility report which claimed such a dam would cost more than it would be worth.

Irrigation Problem

At the core of the problem, according to spokesmen in Columbus and North Bend, is a major expansion in irrigation upstream on the Loup.

Royal Clark, hydraulic engineer for the Loup River Public Power District, which uses river water for the generation of power for the Nebraska Public Power System, said there were water shortages before when between 50,000 and 60,000 acres were being irrigated upsteam.

He said the Farwell project will eventually be an additional 50,000 acres and another 100,000 acres of irrigation is being planned upsteam.

"The river will soon be lost to us," he said. "This will have a serious effect on domestic water usage and the industrial and economic level of this area."

At the North Bend meeting, Arden Wolfe, a North Bend banker, said, "it is evident that upstream irrigation developments are halting a major part of the normal flow of the Loup. If this continues, and the 30-day forecast of higher than normal temperatures and lower than normal rainfall holds true, the river is in real trouble."

"This is truly an alarming situation," George McNally, Schuyler, said. "Here we are a little over a week since we were fighting floods and our problem now is a river that is drying up. We had better do something in a hurry."

Eason said the recent heavy rainfalls have made it difficult to arouse the public to the urgency of the situation.

He appointed a committee to plan further steps in arranging a solution. Members of the planning committee are Ned Burke, Genoa, chairman; Harry Green, Valley; Howard Williams, Fremont; Kermit Wagner, Schuyler; John Preston, Columbus, and Eason.

Eason said some members were considering sending a delegation to outline the situation to Governor Morrison.

East Germany Raises Air Block Possibility

Berlin (UPI) — Communist East Germany announced Wednesday it is reserving the right to bar international air traffic from certain areas over its territory, raising the possibility of interference with Allied air routes to Berlin.

The National Defense Council, which is headed by Communist Chief Walter Ulbricht, made no mention in its announcement of the 3 corridors used by the United States, Britain, and France for flights between West Germany and West Berlin.

But it was clear from the wording of the decree that the communists were reserving the right to cut off flights there.

It said local commanders of the East German armed forces can declare air space, land, and water areas forbidden zones if necessary for military reasons.

"Forbidden areas can be established over important political and economic centers and over centers of national defense," it said.

The western air corridors, which are 20 miles wide and more than 100 miles long, pass over many cities and other places that might be classified "important" by the communists.

$58,805 Lawsuit Lodged Against Minnesota Firm

Union Bank and Trust Co. of Lincoln Wednesday filed a $58,805 suit against a Minnesota insurance company for alleged breach of an indemnity contract.

St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. of St. Paul, Minn., was named defendant by the bank in U.S. District Court.

The bank alleges a $56,805 loss from a "check kiting" scheme perpetuated January, 1962, to April, 1963, by Richard L. Putnam, Dean L. Erickson, Twila Mae Hartman and others.

The insurance company "has failed to idemnify the bank for this loss as required to do by the indemnity insurance contract," the bank's petition states.

It alleges the bank and defendant company had executed a "banker's blanket bond indemnity insurance" contract that became effective Oct. 6, 1962.

Extended Forecast

NEBRASKA: For the 5-day period Thursday through Monday, temperatures will average 6 to 8 degrees above normal with only minor day to day changes. Normal highs are 87 to 91. Normal lows are 60 to 65. Precipitation will average only about .25 of an inch in the northeastern portions to around .10 of an inch in the southwest occurring as widely scattered thundershowers possibly Thursday and again about Saturday.

KANSAS: For the 5-day period Thursday through Monday, temperatures will average 6 to 8 degrees above normal with only minor day to day changes. Normal highs are 90 to 93. Normal lows range from 60 northwest to upper 60s southeast. Precipitation possibly around .10 to .20 of an inch in the northern portions to none in the south, occurring as scattered thundershowers Thursday and again about Saturday.

Summary Of Conditions

Most of Nebraska and southwestern portions of Iowa will be under the influence of hot temperatures Thursday with little chance of precipitation due to movement of high pressure areas. A large, cool, high pressure area centered in northern Wisconsin will continue to move slowly east and southeastward. The southern edge of the cooler temperatures, or front, extends from the southern tip of Illinois to near Lincoln and to just north of Chadron, and from these points is expected to move northward as a warm front as the cool high previously mentioned continues to move southeastward to southern Lake Huron by late Thursday. A rather broad low is located in the Rocky Mountain region but is not likely to show much movement due to a blocked pattern aloft which will likely keep Nebraska fair for the most part.

State Convention Of Luther League Slated Next Week

Fremont — An estimated 350 persons are expected to attend the annual convention of the Nebraska Luther League Synod, Lutheran Church in America, to be held at Midland College here July 8-10.

Dr. Paul deFreese, pastor of Kountze Memorial Church, Omaha, will be the keynote speaker.

Fred Berkobin, international Luther League president, will lead special sessions of the convention.

Business on the agenda includes adoption of state bylaws; adoption of a new budget; election of state officers; and election of delegates to the international convention at Selinsgrove, Pa.

Two Are Chosen For Girls' Nation

Two Nebraska high school seniors will represent their state this month at the 17th annual Girls' Nation in Washington, D.C.

Cynthia Hardin of Lincoln and Noel Weimer of Omaha, both 1963 Cornhusker Girls' State delegates and officeholders, will attend the July 28-Aug. 3 sessions to be held on the American University campus.

Miss Hardin, daughter of Chancellor and Mrs. Clifford Hardin, was named governor of the American Legion Auxiliary-sponsored conclave here last month.

Miss Weimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Weimer, served as lieutenant governor of Girls' State.

Iraq Crushes Red Revolution Attempt

Damascus, Syria (AP)—Iraq's government announced its troops and police crushed an attempted Communist coup at the Al Rashid Army camp near Baghdad Wednesday.

The insurgent communists and their hired agents were "annihilated in 30 minutes of fighting," the National Revolutionary Council declared in a statement broadcast by Radio Baghdad.

The broadcast gave no figures on the size of the rebel band or the casualties, but said some were under arrest. It said the prisoners were under investigation by a board of inquiry. The Communist Party is outlawed in Iraq.

The uprising was the second major conspiracy reported smashed by the council since it overthrew and executed dictator Abdel Karim Kassem last Feb. 8-9 in a revolt triggered from Al Rashid, the most important military base in Iraq.

The first was attributed to Nasserites. A wave of security raids netted Iraqi backers of UAR President Nasser's brand of Arab nationalism after the council announced May 25 it had foiled a plot by opportunist elements to overthrow it and "drown the country in a sea of blood."

These developments dimmed prospects for the projected merger this fall of Iraq and Syria, both dominated by Ba'ath Socialists, with the United Arab Republic.

Misko Will Hear Application For New Lincoln Bank

State Banking Director Ralph Misko Wednesday announced he will hold a hearing in the Statehouse July 16 to consider an application for a new bank in Lincoln.

The bank, to be known as the Lincoln Bank South, would be located around 17th and Nebraska Highway 2 on the south edge of the city.

The applicants for the state charter are mostly officers of the National Bank of Commerce here, headed by Glenn Yaussi, its president.

They propose capital accounts of $300,000, consisting of $200,000 basic capital, $50,000 surplus and $50,000 undivided profits. A total of 40,000 shares would be issued.

Illinois Woman Killed In Crash

David City (AP)—Maria Teresa Carr, 32, of Niles, Ill., was killed and 4 persons injured Wednesday in a two-car crash west of David City at the junction of highways 81 and 30A.

The injured were William M. Carr, 39, husband of the dead woman; Dolly Fumo, 13, of Chicago, a sister of Mrs. Carr, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson of Stromsburg.

The Carrs were en route to White Sands, N.M., where Carr is employed.

Carr and Miss Fumo were in good condition at a David City hospital. The Johnsons were reported in good condition at an Osceola hospital.

Memorable Fourth Of July

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The Fourth of July is a national holiday because it marks the anniversary of the signing in 1776 of the Declaration of Independence. This was the historic moment when this nation declared itself free from the oppression of England and there followed the long, hard years of the Revolution. But on this July 4 of 1963, many thoughts will be of another period of hard times in American history.

It was on July 4 just 100 years ago exactly that Gen. Ulysses S. Grant brought to a successful end his long siege of Vicksburg and thus broke the back of the Confederacy. It was just a day prior to that to the northeast when the Union forces of Gen George G. Meade won a bitterly contested struggle with the men under the South's Gen. Robert E. Lee. Certainly, valor marked both these battles but the generalship was poor and the human slaughter an appalling thing. Even then, wisdom might have brought a swift end to a conflict that went on, however, for nearly another two years.

Prolonging Of The War

Many thousands of young men fell in one feeble and senseless effort after another in the engagements that recount the Gettysburg and Vicksburg victories. National cemeteries now mark the resting place of vast numbers who remain unknown to this day and who no doubt wondered, while they still lived, exactly what the fighting was all about.

That fighting, of course, had to do with the clash of ideals and principles between men and the cause of the Union itself. And the fighting that followed the action of 1776 had to do with the inhumanity of mankind toward one another, the inability of two societies to solve their differences through statesmanship.

Greater cause for contemplation could hardly be furnished the American people today than these three events in history. And it would be well to keep in mind the purpose of our commemoration of these events. July 4 is set aside as a mark of the victory of this nation over a totalitarian form of government but as well as the victory, which had then to be won, we should remember those things which predicated it. In the case of Gettysburg and Vicksburg and the entire Civil War, it would be well if the idea of victory were completely forgotten. More important to us if we are to salvage anything from that bloodshed and bitterness are a realization and understanding of the causes that brought about the Civil War.

And the causes that brought about the Revolutionary War provide us with a similar lesson. We fought both wars because men could not peacefully settle the differences between them. And the issue that was drawn both times was one of freedom. It was freedom for all men and women of America when our differences with England were settled by force of arms. It was a freedom denied us in the pursuit by England of ill-advised political and economic standards. In the case of the Civil War, it was an ill-advised social order that threatened the division of the Union. It is a serious question today if any of the political, economic and social ills that marked those times were cured with the suffering they sowed.

The United States is not engaged in political and economic oppression of any people but her way of life is threatened by those who still adhere to such a state of affairs. Still we must defend ourselves against the thrusts of those nations that would exploit the people of the world if they could weave their web around them.

Unfortunately, we cannot even lay at the doorstep of anyone else the remnants of social evils that precipitated the bloody Civil War. Not necessarily to some other nation must we look to find the threat from social disorder that erupted in violence in our own nation a hundred years ago. We need only take a look at our own social order and find within it an injustice to minority groups that is still condoned in the hearts of many of our people.

It is an injustice, in fact, that looms as a greater problem even than our struggle against the aims and objectives of international communism. It is an injustice so pressing as to have cast a cloud over the advisability of our President's leaving the nation when he did for a trip to Western Europe. It is an injustice that has brought much suffering, death and a loss of prestige in the eyes of the whole world. It is an injustice we cannot gloss over with words, that we shy away from with law and that we refuse to consider in our hearts.

Turning Eyes Away

In 1776 we applied the lessons of oppression but in the past 100 years we have not even learned, much less applied, the lessons of the oppressor. The former we want none of but the latter too many of us are still all too willing to live with, if not cast directly in the role ourselves. Soon, we hope, there may be a July 4 when we are neither the object of nor originator of any oppression of any kind.

"Now, Let's Not Carry That Independence Day Spirit Too Far"

Impact Seen In Time

Associated Press writers appraising President Kennedy's Western European trip found little solid to write about. Some were kind in noting a benefit from an improved public image of our nation but this is pretty small for such a grueling adventure on the part of the Chief Executive of our nation.

The Associated Press, however, is basically correct because it is forced, as a straight news-gathering agency, to report only those things which are a reality today. Obviously, this leaves it little to report by way of solid presidential results. It leaves so little because the effects of the President's trip will not be known for a long time.

It is not the purpose of the AP to speculate on the future, only to report on the present. And it was never intended or expected that the President would return home with any agreements under his arm. He plugged for a unified Europe, specifically the so-called mixed manned multilateral nuclear defense force, but in this he was laying groundwork.

Probably the full effects of the President's trip will never be known because we cannot tell for sure what it is that moves the minds of statesmen when they make a final decision on affairs. But the trip can hardly help but promote the cause of Western unity by making clear to all the determination of this nation to assist her allies in the struggle against communism. Kennedy has furthered international understanding of the dedication of the United States to the cause of freedom and thus removed many of the doubts and reservations that might have been a stumbling block in the future.

Handwriting On The Wall

Nebraskans in disinterest should not turn away from the painful controversy developing in the Loup river region over the distribution of water. It is prophetic of tomorrow everywhere.

The issue along the Loup is simple enough. The Loup River Public Power District years ago constructed a hydroelectric installation at Columbus, obligated itself to a considerable sum and relied on the constant flow of the river to sustain the health of the enterprise. Water use was of little general concern at the time.

Since then extractions from the river by bankline irrigators, and the creation of a new irrigation district by the Farwell project have created a situation of overdemand and undersupply. Everyone is beginning to feel the pinch.

It is not within the field of this comment to take sides. Agriculture is a great industry and its claims are formidable. The position of the electrical industry is also vital. But the facts do illustrate that Nebraska has saturated its first major water resource in the Middle Loup valley. It is just a question of time when the same thing will happen in the other river valleys.

In this period of economic transition it is indisputable that Nebraska's future will be limited by its water capacity. It is also indisputable that Nebraska cannot fulfill its economic potential until it has brought its water resources under total development. It is further indisputable that time is of the essence. Agricultural survival requires high efficiency. Industrial development cannot proceed fully if such essentials as water are questionable. The time to provide for such inevitable contingencies is the present, realizing that more than a generation will pass before a substantial part is realized.

The Moment Of Truth

As this was written the Nebraska highway death toll stood at 10 fewer than a year ago. The total, as it is, is too sad a figure, but it is comforting to know that there are 10 persons this year for whom the bell didn't have to toll.

It is a thought upon which to dwell in connection with the beginning of the July 4 holiday. It prompts the very personal question of how many today will face their moment of truth on the highway, who by their own inadvertence or the negligence of the other driver will never finish the day nor ever again feel mortal life.

No one who slides behind the wheel and swings into the open road considers it the fateful act, the one that will claim him or others. But for some it always does.

Travellers would do well today if they dwelt even briefly upon a fact. That fact is that all the instruction has been given, all the laws for safety have been enacted, all the preachments have been said. The case is now in the hands of the driver. He is on his own. The full weight of responsibility for himself, his passengers and all those in the other cars is upon him. This responsibility is too much for impulsive driving, for willful driving, or even for moments of impatience or inattention.

He is as the locomotive engineer. In a short time any one can learn to pull the throttle and make the train move. But that is not why the engineer is in the cab. It is not what measures his value. His worth is in his capacity for carrying responsibility, for safeguarding the lives of his passengers for bringing his valuable train to the end of his run without untoward incident.

This is a good day to play engineer.

Pennsylvania Dutch Quit Isolationism

WASHINGTON — Things have changed a lot since the little band of patriots dared sign the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia 187 years ago. But no area has changed less outwardly than a section northwest of Philadelphia generally known as the home of the Pennsylvania Dutch.

There, a derivation of the German language is still spoken, many women still wear the headdress of the old country, and apple pie is frequently served for breakfast.

But though outward appearances may not have changed, the old clannishness of the Pennsylvania Dutch has changed completely, and this week at Kutztown, Pa., the Pennsylvania Dutch folk festival is entertaining thirty U.N. delegates from all over the world, ranging from the Ukraine and White Russia to Nepal in the foothills of the Himalayas, the United Arab Republic in the deserts of the Near East, Cyprus, New Zealand, and Brazil.

U.N. representatives from these thirty countries are enjoying "seven sweets and seven sours," shoofly pie, schnitz un knept, and other unique foods made by the church and Grange women in this part of Pennsylvania.

They are also seeing how shingles are hand hewn, wagonbeds are shifted from one set of wheels to the other, and how some of the most prosperous and painstaking farmers in the nation nurse their soil.

But most of all, they are partaking of warmhearted hospitality in an area which once had the reputation of being the most isolationist in the USA.

A significant debate occurred in the House of Representatives the other day when that sometimes perverse, sometimes chaotic body voted on funds for the United Nations. The American annual contribution to the U.N. is $81 million. But Rep. Glen Lipscomb of Los Angeles, elected to Congress as a Nixon protege, proposed that the U.S. contribution be chopped down by $19 million.

Rep. John J. Rooney, a Brooklyn Democrat who believes in economy but not at the expense of U.S. world prestige, warned that this would have "tragic consequences."

"This vote would be in support of the Soviet Union's position to try and wreck the U.N.," Rooney warned.

Rep. Bob Sikes, D-Fla., pointed out that if other nations followed the proposal of the Lispscomb amendment, the U.N. would soon be out of business.

Despite these warnings, however, the House came within seven votes of hamstringing U.S. participation in the U.N.

The Elder Craftsmen Shop Conducts Brisk Business

NEW YORK—There is a retired millionaire in New York City, well up in his 70s, who does wood-carving as a hobby.

He sells his parcels of genius through a unique shop on Madison Avenue.

The store, called "The Elder Craftsmen Shop," can use that money. A non-profit store, it exists only to sell the artistic work of men and women over 60 years of age. And, whereas the millionaire derives nothing but moral satisfaction out of its function as his selling agent —some 599 other elderly contributors depend upon it, to make their lives more financially secure.

"I wouldn't say that many of our elder craftsmen actually depend on us for eating money," says Mrs. Willard Levy, one of more than 100 volunteer saleswomen, who's been working for the unusual enterprise from the beginning.

"But they need the money for those little luxuries that young working people take for granted. Travel, say. New furniture. One of our consigners—we call her the 'Mouse Lady,' because she makes these delightful little mouse figures that people collect—has just put a new roof on her house in Bussey, Idaho."

And there is a former upstairs maid, retired now that she's in her seventies, who began knitting funny babies' mittens for the elder craftsmen shop when it was founded seven years ago. "She's made four round trips to Europe on the proceeds."

Then there's "our 92-year-old sweater maker." And "our 88-year-old lady who does the hooked rugs." They both live near New York, insist on delivering their products to the store in person, and credit the shop, and the work they do for it, for keeping them young in spirit.

Such people, says the shop's director Eugenie d'Arsi, are "geniuses, artistically."

"We decided to form a shop, and it just grew and grew." Although the elder craftsmen shop accepts from men and women in 40 states and several foreign countries, it still occupies only one floor in an old building tucked between 64th and 65th Streets on Madison.

The sponsors cannot afford more. Although they do about a $50,000 annual business now, 75% of the price of each item goes directly to the elder who made it.

Of course, the shop receives hundreds more applications from elder craftsmen than it can possibly accept. "We are sorry, but we can handle only really skilled work, well-styled and designed to sell," is the explanation.

Miss d'Arsi tells a story, to illustrate:

"One of our consigners is a German lady, in her eighties. In Berlin during the war, her building was bombed. She rescued a little girl who was hysterically calling, 'my Madonna . . . where is my Madonna?' This woman said, 'I'll get your Madonna.' And she picked up a candle, took the softened wax, quickly moulded a figure of the virgin.

The little girl sighed, 'my Madonna,' and died. The woman, unable to forget, began to practice sculpturing with wax. It took nearly 20 years, but she became very professional. Then she was too old to open her own business—so she brought her work to us. We are grateful."

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion of administering stimulant pills to an active 6-year-old? My first-grader is hyperactive and of normal intelligence, but he has difficulty "settling down" in class. A school psychiatrist prescribed a stimulant that somehow centers his activity in the right place at the right time. I have given them to him for three months. The objective was to set a behavior pattern, and his school work is greatly improved. Now I wish to stop but his teacher is against it. This worries me. He has lost weight, his appetite is poor, he complains of headache and nausea, and his sleep is restless. The teacher says I am silly to worry, and that if necessary my son could continue the medication for a year or two without ill effects. What do you think? The drug is dexedrine. — G.M.

Dr. Molner

It may sound wrong to give a stimulant to a child who is hyperactive—unable to sit still, and always has to be doing something.

However, this is exactly what is being done. The treatment has been used by child psychiatrists for some years now. It works. I can't explain how and I am not embarrassed to admit it.

What it DOES, however, is to channel or organize the youngster's energies into useful activity, instead of letting him squander them by buzzing in all directions and jitterbugging.

It is entirely true that children remain on these medications for a year or two, and sometimes for considerably longer periods without harm.

However, I do not think that you, the teacher, or I should make this decision. The psychiatrist should. If he follows the case along, all right. If he cannot do so, another psychiatrist should, or at all events a physician.

Medications should not be given and then forgotten. They do not act entirely alike in all individuals. Watching for any unwanted effects is a vital part of what we mean when we say drugs should be used "under supervision."

It is important to see whether this lad's symptoms (loss of weight, appetite, rest and comfort) are caused by the medication. If so, perhaps the dose or drugs should be changed. There are entirely different ones used for the same essential purpose. One of the psychic energizers might be better and cause less trouble.

Don't argue with the teacher. Talk to the psychiatrist and see whether he is prepared to follow through, or whether some other doctor should supervise.

This approach has helped the boy. Perhaps the general program should be continued, but not at the cost of making him physically upset.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 72 and retired but very active. About a year ago I began to lose my sense of taste, especially sweet. It quickly turns to bitter. Is this common in people my age? — W.W.P.

No, sir. One question I would investigate first is whether, over the last year or two, you have been taking some medication regularly. Some drugs can cause this kind of trouble. It is not necessarily an automatic result of being in the 70s, but in some, the special senses may become less acute.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the difference between myelitis and myositis? — MRS. M.A.

Myositis is inflammation of a muscle; myelitis is inflammation of the spinal cord, such as can occur with polio.

Dear Dr. Molner: Thirty years ago I had my appendix out. It had ruptured. Now I notice a deep indentation where the drainage tube was inserted. I have put on considerable weight. Would this cause it?—MRS. C.P.

Yes. The indentation is due to scar formation. As you increase in weight, fat accumulates around the scar, but not in it.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes sties? I have them constantly.—MRS. E.W.

They are infections from the staphylococcus germ in the tiny glands of the eyelids. They tend to occur in crops. With this type of infection (like boils) you must be particularly careful not to let the matter from one stye spread on the skin and perhaps start another. Some people are particularly susceptible to this type of germ. You may be one. It is also possible for the germ to lurk in the nose, then emerge and cause trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: We like to eat dried fruit, uncooked, especially apples, prepared with sulphur dioxide. Can this be harmful? — MRS. W.D.

Washing the dried fruit before eating should remove any risk from the chemical.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Outside Help

Lincoln, Neb.

Since 1955, it seems as if our city council members and county commissioners have been subjected to self-imposed interference by groups called the City Planning Commission, Power Advisory Board, Chamber of Commerce, City-County Building Authority, etc. It is about time that both governments get rid of such groups composed of busy businessmen and again start accepting the responsibilities for which they were elected.

It is hard to believe that these people have time to devote freely when it takes them away from their own business interests. Any advice that is obtained for nothing is worth just what it costs: nothing. Such groups have cost the taxpayer many dollars through special elections, surveys and studies.

Why the city and county have come to the point where they need outside help is beyond the public's intelligence to figure out.

Thank You

Lincon, Neb.

On behalf of the Department of Nebraska American Legion Auxiliary, I wish to express our gratitude and appreciation for the excellent coverage which The Star gave to our Girls' State activity.

We are proud and happy to sponsor this vast undertaking, for we feel the future worth to our country is inestimable. It makes our work much lighter to have such cooperation as The Star has evidenced.

Grandpa Says

Guide Rock, Neb.

I see by the papers that Rep. Dave Martin thinks the Supreme Court made a mistake when they said kids shouldn't repeat the Lord's Prayer in school.

Grandpa says he figures them Supreme Court boys know that by the time kids make it all the way to school safe, it's a little bit late in the day to start prayin'. He says unless kids have changed in the last 50 years, he can't see that repeatin' the Lord's Prayer is going to do anything but start an argument, anyway.

Grandpa says this prayer-in-school fracas proves one thing, though. Some people will go to almost any length to keep from takin' their kids to church on Sunday morning.

The Dangers

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to know why the state of Nebraska condones the sale of fireworks. The majority of the other states have long since made it illegal to sell them.

I was horrified to see small children handling rockets and firecrackers. Every other time of the year our youngsters are forbidden to play with matches and fire but now that the Fourth is here, all caution has been thrown to the four winds. Because a holiday is near, five and six-year-olds are permitted to play with these dangerous things.

What kind of holiday will it be when our children are blinded, maimed or killed?

While the legislators are still at their work, I wish they would please make it illegal to sell or have in possession these terrible instruments. The parents aren't doing much to protect their children. Someone must pass a bill and then see that it is strictly enforced.

MRS. A.

Backward Approach

Clay Center, Neb.

When Jimmy Piersall of the New York Mets ran backward around the bases to reach home, I was reminded of all the "bass-ackward" people in this forward-looking world who try to:

do by undoing . . .
spend money to balance the budget . . .
win friends by giving "friendly advice" . . .
squelch rumors by telling more lies . . .
win love by making their spouses jealous . . .
lure votes by ridiculing popular leaders . . .
eat to lose weight . . .
drink to drown sorrows . . .
Avoid car accident by increasing highway speeds. .
seek peace through war, and go to heaven by raising hell.

Jim wasn't the first man to try to go somewhere backwards!

The Old Trails

Lincoln, Neb.

The Star article favoring emphasis on highways leading to Nebraska's historic and recreational spots was certainly to the point. If the state expects the good rewards of tourism, it must provide inviting access to its treasure spots. Regrettably this is not the case today.

But it is to be remembered that Nebraska has two highway systems, a modern one and an ancient one. A great deal of history lies along the old trails. Except for the Oregon Trail, most of them are unmarked and are becoming forgotten things. I wonder how many of the readers ever heard of the DeRoil Trail or the Military Road. Yet both of them ran not too far away from Lincoln.

Before it is too late, Nebraskans should organize for research and action. They should locate and mark the old trails. It is a sad commentary that most of us walk on historic ground without ever realizing it.

Myself, I like bird-watching. But I realize that trail-hunting can be just as thrilling.

Won't someone please start the ball rolling?

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Pending Tax Bill Boon To Elderly Home Owners

By ROBERT PETERSON

Many older people are living in homes bought early in life when they were raising families. With their children grown, the original home may be too big for their needs. But to sell it involves a sizable loss through the impact of federal taxes.

Their dilemma will be solved if Congress passes a bill presently being considered. It provides that when people 55 years of age or older sell dwellings occupied by them as homes for at least 5 years, the gains realized from such sales would be exempt from either federal income or capital gains taxes.

The U.S. Senate's Special Committee on Aging, which is advocating passage of this bill, believes that if this tax exemption is approved elders will be encouraged to sell and move from large homes into dwellings more suited to their present needs.

Most elders I meet are patient and good-humored. But I certainly ran into an exception the other day. About 9 in the morning I stopped at a shoe repair shop and left with an elderly shoemaker a tennis sneaker which had ripped and needed sewing. He said it would be ready the next day. But about 4 that afternoon I was passing the shop so I took a chance and asked if the shoe happened to be ready. He grabbed the sneaker, tossed it to me, and snapped, "If you're in such a hurry you better take it someplace else."

Does anyone get as many personal letters as he'd like? Very few no doubt. Yet I've just heard from a Mrs. Jessie B. Florida who says she corresponds regularly with 100 people and gets letters every day. And she's 81 years old.

"I've been asked how I ever dug up so many folks to write to," she says, "but it was easy. As a minister's daughter, we moved every three years and in each town I made one or two friends. I'm alumni secretary of my college class of 1905 so I keep in touch with many old classmates. And whenever I go anywhere and meet someone I like I ask for their name and address and tell them I'm going to write. Folks don't always answer right away but you mustn't take offense. Keep writing. They'll reply when they realize you're really interested in them."

This woman's success as a correspondent seems to stem from her sincere interest in others and her persistence. The trouble with most of us is we wait for the other fellow to take the initiative. And if we don't get a prompt answer to our letters we stubbornly refuse to write again. That's why we so often look through the mail and sigh, "Nothing here but bills and advertisements."

Driver Training Aid Bill Fails To Pass

There'll be no state aid to schools for driver education in Nebraska during the coming two years.

A bill, LB478, under which an increase in driver license fees would have provided funds to assist schools in offering driver training courses failed of approval on final reading in the State Legislature Wednesday.

Introduced by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, LB478 received a 22-14 vote on a clause attached. 29 affirmative votes were needed.

On a second test with the emergency clause stricken and only 22 affirmative votes needed, the bill failed by one vote, 21-14.

The state aid would have been provided in the amount of $30 per pupil successfully completing the driver education course.

Money would have come from an increase from $2 to $3 in the cost of a two-year driver license, original or renewal, and increases also in fees for probationary and learner permits.

Proportional Car Taxes Withdrawn

The Legislature consented unanimously Wednesday to withdrawal of a bill, LB718, dealing with proportional taxing of motor vehicles.

Sen. George Fleming of Sidney said the bill has been made unnecessary by passage of LB377, a measure submitting to voters next year a constitutional amendment permitting a different method of taxing motor vehicles.

Record School Budget Stamped OK By Board

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Board of Education members put their formal stamp of approval Wednesday on a record high budget for the coming year to meet a record high enrollment estimate of 28,000 students, requiring more teachers and more classrooms.

The preliminary budget total is $15,056,672, up over $1.2 million from the 1962-63 budget. Still to be added is a fund for employe retirement pensions.

School Supt. Steven Watkins told the board that the largest single item affecting the school district's budget is salaries. Increased costs include hiring 49 new teachers, and maintenance employes and costs for the new Pound Junior High.

Meaning A Guess

What the budget figures are going to mean to the taxpayers is still mostly a guess because of the missing figure for retirement programs and the incomplete school district property valuations.

County Assessor Arthur Davis noted that the 1962 assessment figures for the school district totaled $201,465,550 and placed a conservative increase estimate for 1963 valuations at $208,466,000.

Only $509,000 of the already announced $1.2 million budget increase will come from tax money.

With the estimated $7 million-plus increase in property valuation for the district, the present 48.95 mills school district levy will bring an additional $340,000 to $350,000 into school coffers, making a levy hike of 1.5 mills sufficient to bring in the additional $159,000 and the as-yet-unset amount required to retirement funding.

Final Decisions

Dr. Watkins said the board will hold a session sometime between July 22 and Aug. 1 to make final decisions on the retirement program and set a cost figure.

Comparative figures for the 4 present school budget funds show:

—General fund to provide for support of the schools, running expenses and all other expenses for the year: $12,516,996.41 for 1963, compared to $11,134,727.59 for 1962.

—Capital outlay fund to provide for purchase and improvement of school sites, and remodeling, erection and equipping of buildings: $412,881.82 for 1963-64, compared to $1,230,794.43 for 1962-63.

—Bond interest fund to provide for payment of interest on bonds issued by the district: $845,025.74 for 1963-64, compared to $329,184.81 for 1962-63.

—Bond sinking fund to provide for payment of bonds issued by the district: $1,281,768.69 for 1963-64, compared to $1,140,768.62 for 1962-63.

Noted during the hour-long discussion preceding the formal passage of the incomplete budget was the healthy interest income being received on the unused portion of the $12 million bond issue authorized last year by Lincoln School District voters.

Banker Probes

Board member and banker Robert Wekesser probed into discrepancies between estimated working balances of the 4 funds and the excess remaining at yearend, noting that estimated working balance for the general fund was set at $680,621 for the end of 1962-63, and in reality, a carryover of $2,305,549.53 was left in the general fund by the June 30 date.

He also complained that budget estimates were "meaningless" without actual expenditure figures for the preceding year.

Noting the excess monies remaining in the school funds at the fiscal 1962-63 yearend, he suggested that the money be used to reduce the amount of the property tax levy, but was told by Supt. Watkins that a tax "rebate" would simply have to be made up in future years if balances were depleted.

New Elementary School Site Is Bought By Board

Lincoln School Board members approved contracts for the purchase of 10 acres of land near 52nd and Woodland, near the new Pound Junior High, for the price of $30,000.

The land, bought from Elizabeth Branson, will be used for an elementary school building.

Also approved was the purchase of 6 Strauss houses near Meadow Lane School for $109,500. The houses will be used as school annexes while needed, and later sold.

Architects Will Be Picked Soon For School Work

Architects are expected to be selected soon for several major projects by the Lincoln School Board as plans for a new high school, an elementary school, and additions and renovations were listed for consideration Wednesday.

East High School, to be built in the vicinity of 70th and A, was the major project on the list. Supt. Steven Watkins said plans for the new high school should be started this fall and be ready for bidding in a year.

An elementary school to be built east of Meadow Lane, and additions to Brownell School and May Morley School, are also up for consideration.

Watkins also requested appointment of an architectural firm to aid with the renovation of the Lincoln High School cafeteria to help develop naw arrangements, and to incorporate additional space.

Mass Celebrated

Vatican City (AP) — Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, Vatican secretary of state, celebrated a special requiem Mass for Pope John XXIII who died a month ago. The cardinal celebrated the "Month's Mind" Mass at an altar in the grottoes beneath St. Peter's Basilica near the pontiff's tomb.

Delay Deciding Crossroads Valuation

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council as a board of equalization Wednesday deferred decision for one week on the 1963 assessed valuation of the Crossroads Motor Hotel and Patio Bank drive-in facility at 10th and O.

The city tax commissioner has appraised the property at $1,292,790 for a 35% assessed valuation of $452,500.

Charles Thone, attorney for the Third Recon Corp. trustee, said the city appraisal of $342,840 on land is fair, but urged the $949,950 appraisal on building be reduced.

'Fantastic'

"The 'built-in' depreciation of the hotel is fantastic," he said. "Additionally, both solar-tile walls must be replaced at an estimated cost of $100,000. Earning capacity has been negative."

Third Recon is a debtor corporation in Federal District Court proceedings with pending debts and claimed liabilities of some $2.2 million.

Thone said A. G. Bowen, a Denver hotel appraiser, has appraised the reproduction cost of the total facility, including land less depreciation, at $1.4 million and its market value at $1.2 million.

Broken Down

The market value appraisal was broken down as $350,000 for land $130,000 for equipment, $570,000 for structure, and $150,000 for bank drive-in lease.

He said the city's appraisal of $950,000 on structure should be reduced to the Denver appraiser's value of $570,000, or approximately $100,000 in assessed valuation.

Several council members suggested that economic factors involved in the Crossroads should be considered, but needed to be given further study.

Business Reduction

In other action, the equalization board reduced the assessed value on Robert Easley's business property at 500 So. 13th by $3,000 to $28,500.

The tax commissioner had raised the 1963 assessment by $6,000 on land in line with market value changes in the area.

However, Easley's attorney complained that the increase was discriminatory because of lesser increases on other nearby properties.

The board ordered no change on the $15,500 assessed value of a residential property at 3020 Sheridan Blvd.

Owner Don O. Shurtleff had protested a $200 increase, assessed on a fallout shelter constructed on the property.

Bomb Shelter

Shurtleff's attorney maintained the $2,000 shelter had not enchanced the property's value, but Tax Commissioner William Schlaebitz said the nominal assessment on fallout shelters was in line with council policy.

One city official noted the city tax on the shelter was $3.86 for the year.

Two councilmen, Lloyd Hinkley and Ervin Peterson, said a fallout shelter can add to the market value of a property. Hinkley is a real estate broker and Peterson is a home builder.

Schools To Try 'Horse-Trading' For TV Hookup

Board members are going to try a little "horse-trading" for the Lincoln Public Schools on a request for an easement for a TV cable by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Board member James Stuart suggested the easement—the right to place the buried cable across Ruth Pyrtle School property in Wedgewood Manor—might be given LT&T in an even-up swap for a cable connection to the new elementary school.

The board instructed the school attorney, Willis Hecht, to draw up a document on the proposed "swap" and submit it to LT&T officials.

The television cable is being laid to a new development of Wedgewood Manor and allows homeowners to receive TV reception without aerials, which are banned in the east Lincoln development.

Gives Up Motorcycles

A Most Fashionable Omelet

Cranberry-filled Omelets are high fashion on dinner menus this summer. They look so special you would think they were creations of expert chefs. Actually, light puffy omelets can be whipped together by teenagers.

Have a lot of large, fresh eggs on hand, plenty of canned cranberry sauce, then try your hand at making some of these cranberry filled omelets.

CRANBERRY FILLED OMELET

- 6 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 6 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 lb. can jellied Cranberry Sauce

Beat egg whites until stiff. Add salt, pepper and water to egg yolks. Beat until thick and lemon colored. Fold yolks into egg whites. Heat fat in large heavy skillet. Pour in omelet mixture. Cook slowly until puffy and lightly browned on bottom, about 10 minutes. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) until knife inserted into center comes out clean, 12 to 15 minutes. Beat cranberry sauce with rotary beater until saucy. Heat. Make ½ inch deep crease across omelet. Slip spatula under omelet and fold in half. Roll from skillet onto platter. Fill with hot cranberry sauce. 4 to 6 servings.

And here is an omelet to serve as a dessert. It's sweetened with powdered sugar a topped with a Cranberry Orange Honey Sauce or a Cranberry Banana Glaze.

DESSERT OMELET

- 6 eggs, separated
- 6 tablespoons powdered sugar
- Dash salt
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Beat egg whites till frothy. Add powdered sugar gradually while continuing to beat till stiff. Combine salt, orange rind and egg yolks. Beat till thick and lemon colored. Fold yolks into egg whites. Heat fat in large heavy skillet. Pour in omelet mixture. Cook slowly until puffy and lightly browned on bottom, about 10 minutes. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) until knife inserted into center comes out clean, 12 to 15 minutes. Make ½ inch deep crease across omelet. Slip spatula under omelet and fold in half. Roll from skillet onto platter. Fill with Cranberry Orange Honey Sauce. Serves 4.

CRANBERRY ORANGE HONEY SAUCE

- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 (1-lb.) can Whole Cranberry Sauce
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons honey

Combine cornstarch, cranberry sauce, orange juice and honey in a saucepan. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (about 5 minutes). Serve with Dessert Omelet.

Refreshing

SPICED PINEAPPLE STICKS

- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pineapple spears, or chunks
- ¼ cup vinegar
- ½ cup sugar
- 5 whole cloves
- 1 stick cinnamon

Combine syrup drained from pineapple, vinegar, sugar, cloves and cinnamon. Boil together 5 minutes. Add pineapple spears and let simmer about 3 minutes. Remove cloves and cinnamon stick. Cool and store in refrigerator. Serve as a meat accompaniment. Six servings.

Cool Salad For Warm Day

This versatile Norway salad is equally appropriate as an appetizer course with dinner or as a late evening party snack. To make this easy to prepare snack, and for each serving simply place about 10 whole Norway sardines on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. Circle the sardines with quarter sections of hard-boiled eggs and tomatoes. Decorate with 2 or 3 radish rosettes.

Some Like It Hot

HOT POTATO SALAD

- ½ of 2-pound package frozen small whole potatoes
- 4 slices bacon
- ¼ cup frozen chopped onions
- 1 stalk celery, diced
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1 egg, beaten lightly
- ¼ cup vinegar
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 teaspoons chopped
- 2 teaspoons frozen chopped dill

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover until just tender. Drain well and cut into cubes while still warm. Meanwhile, cook bacon in heavy skillet until crisp. Remove bacon and drain on absorbent paper. Cook chopped onions and celery in bacon drippings until they are tender-crisp. Remove onions and celery from pan with slitted spoon and add to potatoes with chopped hard cooked eggs. Heat about 2 tablespoons of drippings and pour into beaten egg yolk while stirring, then stir in vinegar. Return potatoes to skillet and stir dressing in lightly. Add salt and pepper to taste. Just before serving sprinkle with crumbled crisp bacon and frozen chopped dill. If desired, this hot potato salad may be reheated later on in the top of a double boiler. Makes four to six servings.

Try These

SKILLET POTATOES

Steaks and potatoes cooked on the charcoal grill—what could be more tempting for a patio meal? The snappy cheese flavor of the potatoes comes from the addition of cheese-crackers.

- ½ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- ½ soup can milk
- 6 boiled potatoes, sliced
- 1 small green pepper, cut in strips
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- 1 cup cheese-cracker crumbs
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

On the grill in a skillet saute onions in butter or margarine. Add soup and milk. Blend well. Add cheese and stir until cheese melts. Add cheese-cracker crumbs and remaining ingredients. Blend well. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally until potatoes are heated. Makes 6 servings. Serve with charcoal broiled steaks.

Meat loaf is as good as you make it—and it can be epicurean treat when given a fraction of the care accorded other more expensive meats. Gourmet Meat Loaf is just what its name implies—a dish for gourmets. You'll love it even though you probably have a favorite meat loaf recipe of your own.

GOURMET MEAT LOAF

- 3 tablespoons instant chopped onion or minced onion
- 3 tablespoons of water
- 1½ lbs. ground beef
- 1 teaspoon ground sage
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- ½ cup Famous Sauce

Add onion to water and let stand for 5 minutes. Drain and combine with meat, Worcestershire Sauce, bread crumbs, and milk. Form into a loaf in baking pan. Mix tomato sauce and Famous Sauce and pour over the meat loaf. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Baste loaf with sauce. Continue baking for 50 minutes. Serves six.

VINAIGRETTE DRESSING

- ¼ cup olive or salad oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon powdered mustard
- ¼ teaspoon basil leaves
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
- ½ clove garlic
- 1 tablespoon chopped green onion tops or chives
- 1 tablespoon pickle relish
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 1½ tablespoon cider vinegar

Combine all ingredients. Yield: ½ cup.

An Easy Oriental Touch

One of the year-around popular flavors is the sweet-and-sour. In cool and cold weather one doesn't mind starting from scratch—that is to say, cooking the spare ribs, or doing the desired amount of pork in the proper fashion BEFORE the sweet-sour sauce is added.

Here is a wonderful recipe that actually takes just 15 minutes cooking time. Try it—you'll like it.

SWEET and SOUR SAUSAGE

- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- ¾ cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ cup vinegar
- 1 cup ketchup
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 2 8-ounce packages brown and serve sausage
- 1 large Bermuda onion sliced
- 1 green pepper, sliced
- 1 10-ounce packag frozen cauliflower
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1 4-ounce jar pimiento, chopped Triscuit wafers

Mix water and cornstarch. Add next six ingredients. Heat and simmer 5 minutes. Cook sausage in skillet until brown. Cut links in half. Add onion, green pepper and cauliflower. Sprinkle with monosodium glutamate. Cover. Add sauce and pimiento. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Serve over Triscuit wafers. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Khrushchev Calls For Unity Among Communists

From Press Dispatches

Berlin — Premier Khrushchev appealed Wednesday night for the communist camp to unite. He said communists should place communism first, their countries second.

The Soviet leader spoke at a mass rally in the main square of Frankfurt-on-the-Oder at the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland before a crowd estimated by East German officials at 70,000.

Khrushchev's plea was in apparent anticipation of the showdown meeting with representatives of Red China in Moscow Friday on questions of who knows best how to topple capitalism and make the world communist.

The Chinese, along with Albania and now Romania, have opposed some of the ideas laid down by Khrushchev on how to carry out their common ends.

Russia Accused

Chinese officials Wednesday gave Western embassies copies of a note accusing Russia of worsening relations on the eve of the Sino-Soviet ideological talks.

The Chinese published a 67-page indictment of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence policies last month and distributed it in Moscow when the Russians refused to print it.

Russia retaliated by expelling 5 Chinese, including 3 embassy officials, who had distributed the document. The note passed out to the Western embassies Wednesday protested those expulsions.

"We must be communists in the first place, Germans in the second place; in the first place communists, in the second place Poles; first communists, second Russians," said Khrushchev.

Khrushchev made it clear he meant all communist countries should unite when he quoted the slogan of Karl Marx: "Proletarians of the world unite."

Soft-Line Repeated

Despite the call to unity, Khrushchev reiterated his softer line on the question of war—a position challenged by the Chinese Communists.

"The time when war could be carelessly unleashed is finally over," he said. "He who begins a war today cannot plunder anymore, but would be burned up in it. We want no war, not because of fear, but because we know what war means."

QUICK ARRIVAL OF FIRE PATROL SAVES 36 KIDS

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (AP)—Quick arrival of firemen was credited Wednesday with saving the lives of 36 second grade children trapped in a classroom by flames in a public school in Inhauma suburb.

The blaze started after an explosion in the school kitchen spread across a hall and blocked the only exit from the classroom. Firemen reached the scene less than 5 minutes after the explosion, extinguished the flames and brought the children and their teacher to safety unharmed.

It's Fine Print That Counts

Union City, N.J. (AP) — In bold, red type, the sticker on the car proclaimed: "This is an abandoned car."

That being the case, said Francisco Espinosa, and 18-year-old Cuban refugee, he didn't see why he shouldn't take it, since he needed a car.

Magistrate Frank G. Hahn said Wednesday he was inclined to believe the boy but imposed a $25 fine after Espinosa was apprehended driving the vehicle.

What Espinosa couldn't read, police said, was the small type on the sticker: "If unclaimed it will be towed to the police yard and sold at public auction."

Patrolmen place the stickers on cars parked in the same spot for two or 3 days. The city auctions off about 150 such cars a year.

LONDON EYES ON WARD

Peering through the rear window of a London taxi, a woman catches a glimpse of Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in Britain's sex-and-security scandal. Dr. Ward was leaving Marylebone Magistrate's court Wednesday after being ordered to stand trial on several vice charges after a hearing. He posted bail of $5,600 and headed for an undisclosed destination.

West German Visit Slated By De Gaulle

Paris (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle takes off for Bonn Thursday in an effort to swing West Germany around to his design for Europe on the basis of the new French-German cooperation treaty.

The chances seem against him, but this is hardly likely to deter the stubborn French leader.

The occasion for De Gaulle's two-day visit to Bonn is the official inauguration of the Paris-Bonn pact, which calls for close and continuing consultation on foreign, economic and defense policies.

The French president's more immediate aim is to counteract the impact of President Kennedy's triumphal visit to West Germany last week.

To this end, De Gaulle, 72, is concentrating on the German leadership and avoiding any popularity contest with the energetic, 46-year-old Kennedy. His program does not provide for any public speeches and, unlike Kennedy, he will not go to West Berlin.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer joined Kennedy in issuing a communique which appeared to adopt American views on European unification, trade policies and allied defense under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). De Gaulle wants to use the French-German treaty as a lever to pry the West Germans over to the French viewpoint.

Kirby Regains Power In Giant Alleghany Corp.

New York (AP) — Financier Allan P. Kirby regained power Wednesday in giant Alleghany Corp. in a sequel to an epic 1961 financial battle that toppled him.

A $16.8 million stock purchase transaction put Kirby back in the driver's seat.

Under the agreement, holdings of Kirby and business allies will grow to about 59 per cent of the 9.8 million outstanding common shares in Alleghany's $7 billion railroad and investment company empire.

The deal formally marked the exit from the Alleghany picture of John D. and Clint W. Murchison Jr., wealthy Dallas, Tex., brothers who seized control after a proxy fight 26 months ago.

Feuding with the tenacious Kirby, who clung to the largest single block of stock—about 33 per cent — stopped the Murchisons in their tracks.

Last September, the brothers sold nearly half their stock to Bertin C. Gamble, head of a Minneapolis-based wholesale-retail store chain, and contracted for the sale of the remainder.

Wednesday, Gamble contracted to transfer 1.6 million of the former Murchison-held shares to Kirby and two associates, Robert S. Odell, president of Allied Properties Inc. of San Francisco, and James S. Hunt, board chairman of Coral Ridge Properties Inc., Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The price was $10.50 a share.

Gamble, whose Gamble-Skogmo Inc. will wind up with 1.8 million shares, noted the impasse in Alleghany affairs. He said the sale to Kirby would serve interests of stockholders generally.

For the time being, he will stay on as Alleghany president.

The venture into Alleghany was a sour experience for the young, aggressive Texans, sons of fabulous oil millionaire Clint Murchison Sr.

Hailed two years ago in Wall Street as bold and resourceful conquerors, the Murchisons soon found themselves checkmated at every turn by the stubborn Kirby.

They eventually retreated, beaten and losers—some Wall Streeters said—by from $5 million to $10 million.

Alleghany controls the $2.5 billion New York Central Railroad, currently seeking merger with the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Investors Diversified Services, a $4 billion investment company complex that was nursed along in its early stages by Gamble.

No Job For The Faint Of Heart

Philadelphia (AP) — James A. Roberts Jr., 40, might have succeeded in robbing the Prudential Federal Savings & Loan Association Wednesday if he hadn't fainted, police said.

This was the report they received:

Roberts pointed his toy pistol at Samuel D. Galati, a controller, as employes were preparing to leave the building. He declared, "This is a robbery."

Guard Stephen Ryan, 66, was at a desk at the end of the counter. Ryan slowly eased behind the counter, pulled his weapon from his holster, and fired a shot. Roberts fainted and Ryan "disarmed" him, removing 5 plastic bullets from the cylinder of his "revolver."

Roberts recovered after police arrived. "Well, I didn't hurt anybody, did I?" he mumbled.

Arraignment Of Beckwith Is Postponed

Jackson, Miss. (UPI)—The arraignment of Byron de la Beckwith, the accused sniper slayer of intergration leader Medgar Evers, was delayed until Monday at the request of his attorneys Wednesday.

Attorney Hugh Cunningham appeared before Circuit Judge Leon F. Hendrick at the scheduled 2 p.m. CST (4 p.m. EDT) arraignment and made the request for the postponement.

Cunningham informed the court that lawyers Hardy Lott and Stanley Sanders of Greenwood could not be present, and therefore the defense was requesting the delay.

Beckwith is accused of shooting Evers, Mississippi Field Secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), in the driveway of his home early on the morning of June 12. The Negro leader had just returned home from an integration rally.

Let Freedom Ring On Independence Day

The most enthusiastic bell-ringers on the Fourth of July will be the youngest citizens to whom the chance of making a great deal of noise is always welcome.

Among Lincoln's newest Americans who are all set to go with, appropriately enough, an oriental gong instead of the traditional bell are Diane and David Hronik, who at the tender ages of two and three can be considered world travelers.

A little over a year ago, the youngsters flew across the Pacific from their native Korea to be welcomed by their foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hronik of Lincoln.

With the first peal of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia leading the way at noon on Independence Day, a chorus of bells across the nation will join on Thursday in the American refrain, "Let Freedom Ring."

The all-out national effort to commemorate the exact hour — noon of July 4, 1776 — of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence will create a glorious din which promises to make the most casual citizen stop to reflect a few moments on his most valued possession —freedom.

Eagerly anticipating the part they plan to play in the national bell-ringing are Billy and Sally McVicker, the children of Mr. and Mrs. James McVicker, who have Grandfather William McVicker's bell collection from which to make their choice.

Well-coached by Grandmother McVicker, who is a national officer of the American Legion Auxiliary, on the signficance of the bell-ringing, Billy gives the rope a hearty tug while Sally covers her ear.

The cacophony of bells from church spire and carillon tower no doubt will be punctuated by all sorts of booms, bongs and tinkles from hand bells, dinner bells, antique school bells, lowly cow bells and even a few sleigh bells wielded by energetic young Americans.

Ready to do their patriotic bit are Lincoln Camp Fire Girls who will be spending the Fourth at Camp Kiwanis at Milford.

The big camp bell is perfect for the task at hand and discussing the weighty problem of who will ring the bell are (from the left) Karen Hardy, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hardy, and Debbie Roberts, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, who are surrounded by eager candidates for the job.

One bell and three youngsters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Simpson on Colony Lane will add up to a great deal of noise on Thursday noon.

The bell, incidentally, gets a daily work-out at the Simpson home as its well-known call means "come home immediately" to the younger members of the family.

From front to back are Jane, 2, Woody, 4, and Ann, 6.

Dear Abby

An Emotional Disturbance

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman past 50 who can't resist buying clothes I am that woman. I buy dresses, hats, shoes, underwear and costume jewelry I don't need and have no place to wear. I'm an ordinary woman and lead a very ordinary life. I am married to an average man and we aren't wealthy, but I keep right on buying. I buy things I'd like to wear, but never will — like big hats, shorty pajamas, bright-colored dresses with low necklines, Bermuda shorts, and spike-heeled shoes. I have closets full of clothes — some still in their original boxes — but the next week I'm out shopping again. Is there something the matter with me?

LOVES TO BUY

DEAR LOVES: Offhand I would say yes. Your spending sprees are probably symptomatic of a deeprooted emotional disturbance, and only a psychiatrist can uproot it. (Either that, or you hate your husband and are trying to keep him broke.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee with a child. My problem is Bert. I have been going steady with him for almost a year. I am very much in love with him. In all the time I've gone with Bert I haven't even looked at another man. He calls me up at work at least twice a day, he sees me every night and on the week-ends, too. He knows where I am every minute. Right? Well, so why is it that when he comes out he goes through all my garbage pails and ash trays to make sure nobody else has been there? I don't mind his being a little jealous. In fact, it's flattering, but this is ridiculous. He has no reason to act like this.

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: You are fine — Bert is confused. Obviously he is not sure of himself. If you want to suffer, go ahead and marry him.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's father adores our little girl, and he loves to take her places. This worries us a great deal because Grandpa is a TERRIBLE driver. No one in the family wants their children to ride with him, but sometimes we can't find an excuse. What can we say without hurting Grandpa's feelings He is not old and feeble (he is 57) but he is a TERRIBLE driver.

NEEDS AN EXCUSE

DEAR NEEDS: Why look for an "excuse" when you have a good reason. Tell Grandpa that you love him dearly, but his driving terrifies you. Better to risk hurting Grandpa's feelings than your child's life.

Around The Town

Some familiar faces—with names to match—were in Lincoln earlier this week—they were Mr. and Mrs. 'Oz' Black of Denver who came to attend the fiftieth wedding anniversary festivities for Mr. Black's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tyner.

Before going to Denver, by way of a few years in Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Black resided in Lincoln where, as a cartoonist, he was associated with The Lincoln Star for a number of years.

More names on the guest list are those of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dingman, Jr., of Phoenix, Ariz., who are dividing their stay in Lincoln between Mr. Dingman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dingman, and Mrs. Dingman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlaebitz.

Also visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dingman are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ramsley and their daughter, Robyn of Casper, Wyo.

Then we learned that Mrs. Gerald Hall and her son, Johnnie, have come from Omaha to spend a week with Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey, while Mr. Hall is in Washington, D.C.

A Mad And Merry Pace In Suburbia

PARK MANOR

Whoop-ti-doo, it's holiday time in Suburbia again. Thursday, July Fourth, means that fire crackers are exploding, bells are ringing, chickens are frying, people are having fun, and another long weekend is beginning for Suburban residents.

But Park Manor residents don't seem to even need a holiday to have fun, for news this morning is of busy people enjoying themselves during the entire past week.

News from last weekend is that Park Manor residents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Alles and their sons and daughter, Dennis, 20, David, 17, and Terri Lynn, 15, have a new address in Lincoln, 6800 Equestrian Lane.

Before their move, Mrs. Alles was honored on three occasions by neighbors entertaining in farewell courtesy to her. The first to entertain in her honor were Mrs. Richard Babcock and Mrs. Hugh Winchester who were hostesses at a coffee at Mrs. Babcock's home in mid-June. Twenty of Mrs. Alles' Park Manor neighbors were invited guests at this gathering.

Later this past month, Mrs. Lee Hendry entertained in courtesy to Mrs. Alles with a farewell luncheon and bridge party at Hillcrest Country Club.

Last week, Mrs. Alles was the honored guest at a morning coffee hosted by Mrs. Frank Calsbeek and Mrs. Clifford Cessna at the Calsbeek home. Twenty-six neighbors were invited guests that day.

Neighborhood residents who are entertaining friends this afternoon and evening are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sandin and their children, Mary, Ann, and Michael.

Their guests are to be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swett and their children, Ellie and Chris, who will be joining their neighbors to make home-made ice cream and set off their fire works.

More neighborhood residents with holiday plans for this afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. Marc Anthony and their children, Chip, Matthew, and Marsha.

They are to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Whitcomb and their son and daughters, Scott, Marcene and Nancy, and we understand that a cookout, fireworks, and all the Independence Day trimmings are scheduled for their celebration.

And this happened a while ago, but we wanted to mention a birthday party which, we would imagine, was greatly enjoyed by several of the neighborhood youngsters.

This mid-June party was to celebrate the sixth anniversary of Toby Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Beach, and to the delight of all the celebrants the festivities consisted of a choo-choo party—and a real one at that!

To celebrate the important occasion, Toby and his friends were feted with ice cream and cake at the Beach home, played games there, and then were driven to Ashland where they boarded a train and returned to Lincoln.

We understand that this was the first train ride for each of the youngsters, and it goes without saying that nearly everyone had as much fun as the birthday boy himself!

Those helping Toby celebrate were his brother, Jimmy, Bobby Chancellor, Gary Huston, Steve Gohde, and LeRoy Rock.

Back from a vacation in southern Missouri are Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Tangeman and their sons, Ron and Kent. They returned on Sunday after spending a week in the Lake of the Ozarks country. During their trip they stayed in Rockaway Beach on Lake Taneycomo, and also attended on of the Shepherd of the Hills plays.

Accompanying the Park Manor residents on their southern sojourn were Mrs. Tangeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brakhage.

And this certainly seems to be the season for fun birthday parties in Park Manor, for another unusual one we've just heard of is that of Master David Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Fitzpatrick Jr., who celebrated his fifth anniversary with a hobo party at his home.

Guests came dressed in rags, and the boys spent the afternoon playing games (such a pin the knapsack on the hobo), roasting wieners, and eating ice cream and cake.

The little "hoboes" attending the party were David Maser, Brad Johnson, Paul Schmieding, Doug Caulkins, Ron Shasteen, Brad Leggett, Brian Leggett, Jim Mulvaney, Bobby Mulvaney, Rick Paul, Scott Hergenrader, and Mark Praus.

"Bigger folks" helping Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick with their little hoboes were Mr. and Mrs. William Wolff, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Akeson, and David's sister and brother, Mary Margaret and Tom.

Park Manor residents who just returned last weekend from vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Barlow and their son, Robert. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow and Robert spent one week in Colorado Springs, Colo. and Estes Park.

On their return trip, they stopped in Sidney to visit Mr. Barlow's mother, Mrs. Robert A. Barlow Sr.

Wedding Date Is Announced

Announcing plans this morning for an August wedding is Miss Jean Marie Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox, who will marry Larry N. Sehnert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sehnert, on Aug. 17, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the American Lutheran Church.

The bidding:

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| 4 ♥ | 4 ♠ | 4 NT | Pass |
| 5 ♥ | 5 ♠ | Dble. | |

Opening lead — king of hearts.

This hand was played by the British star, A. Hutchinson, who held the South cards. He wound up in five spades doubled on the bidding sequence shown. Apparently, there is no way of avoiding the loss of two spades and a club, but Hutchinson succeeded in making the contract by very fine play.

West led a heart which South ruffed. It seemed to Hutchinson that West probably had the three missing spades, which meant he would have to go down one or two more tricks unless the diamond finesse worked and the queen of clubs fell as the ace and king were cashed.

Since a diamond finesse had to be taken in any case, he took it at once in order to give himself a chance to make the hand. When the queen won, he ruffed a heart and then played a diamond to the ace and ruffed a diamond, thus continuing the process of reducing his trump length in order to prepare for a possible endplay in trumps.

Hutchinson next cashed the A-K of clubs, hoping the queen would fall, but it didn't. He then exited with a club, producing the following position:

East had to lead a heart and Hutchinson made the key play of ruffing in his hand with the six and overruffing in dummy with the eight. He then trumped a diamond with the seven and played the five of clubs.

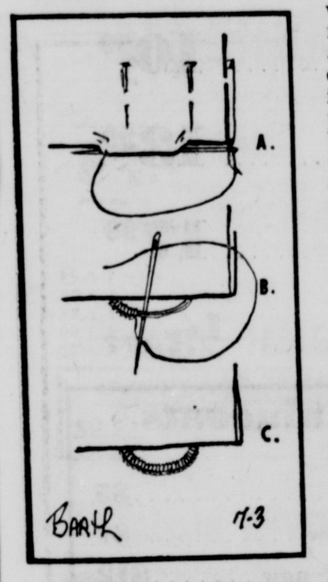

West, with only the K-Q-10 of spades left at this point could make only one trump trick regardless of what he did. (Dummy had the J-8 of spades and a diamond left and South had the A-9 of trumps.)

So West lost one of his trump tricks and Hutchinson made five spades doubled.

Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott

A reader writes that people who sew like to take advantage of fabric sales. But she asks, is it a bargain when you don't know how much yardage is required and you buy a little extra only to find you didn't need it after all? She solved this problem with a little notebook, purse size. She copied yardages of her favorite patterns and cut a small sketch from the guidesheet to paste opposite them. At a glance she can pick the exact amount of material needed.

Q. I'm making some silk shirtwaist dresses with convertible collars. I want to be able to button them, sometimes, at the neck with a tiny button and loop but do not know how to make a fine looking loop The fabrics are beautiful and I want every finishing point to be perfect. Can you help me? — Mrs. S. C.

A. First, you must have thread to match the fabric. Use one strand of thread and knot it, hiding this knot between the layers of fabric. The loop must be large enough for the button to slip through but not large enough for it to unfasten easily. Following the diagram: Mark length of loop with a pin at each end (figure A). Bring needle out from between layers where the left end of the loop will be as you hold it toward you right side up. Place needle in the folded edge at the right end of the loop and then bring it out again at the left. Do this several times, keeping the strands of threat equal in length. Work from left to right over these long strands, with stitches (closely spaced) passing the needle under the loop and over the threat with which you're sewing. Hold the thread down with your thumb and ease your hold on it as you draw up the stitch (see figure B). Do this until the loop is completed and fasten the thread at the end so it does not show (see figure C).

Q. I'm new at sewing. Please define terms such as beading, emery and findings.

MRS. S. P.

A. Beading: A band made with slot openings. It is a type of trim used when you wish to pull ribbon through it for decoration. Emery: A dark, fine, abrasive powder used in pincushions to clean and keep needles and pins free from rust. Findings: Miscellaneous supplies necessary to make a garment, such as thread, zipper, tape, etc. These are also called "notions."

Robert Kennedy Says Proposed Rights Bill Won't Shackle Business

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy strongly denied Wednesday that the administration's key civil rights bill—assuring Negroes access to public accommodations—would shackle business or subject it to any new application of federal power.

And senators who joined him in testifying for the legislation before the Senate Commerce Committee variously:

—Saw it as unleashing the full beneficial impact of $20 billion in annual Negro purchasing power.

—Cautioned that a section excluding bona fide private clubs could be turned into a loophole "to circumvent the law."

—Said that "failure to meet the issue (of equal access) fully . . . will perpetuate the divisions and violence that are beginning to come into play in the country."

The Commerce Committee is considering only that part of the administration's 7-point civil rights program that would prohibit racial discrimination by stores, restaurants, hotels, theaters and other private establishments catering to the general public.

Southerners, and some non-southerners of both parties, have charged this is an unconstitutional assault on private property rights.

Not so, Kennedy fired back vehemently Wednesday, his third consecutive day of testimony.

"There have been a lot of smokescreens about a stab at business . . . " he said. "We are not coming in here with any new principle."

The attorney general said opposition to the legislation should be based on facts. He stated that Congress has passed many measures that affect operations of restaurants, drugstores and other business.

His retort was touched off by an exchange with Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., denying small businesses would be hit unduly hard by the law, said most businesses are now involved in interstate commerce and that discriminatory practices have been a drag on all business.

"What we're really trying to do is take the shackles off business," said Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I.

100th Birthday Is A Day Off

Recife, Brazil (AP)—Farmer Joao Farias Santos didn't go out to hoe in the fields Wednesday. He stayed at his home in a tiny farming community in Paraiba State to celebrate his 100th birthday. Helping him with the celebration were many of his 280 grandchildren, 80 great grandchildren and his 80-year-old bride-to-be.

Patty Wants To Go To School

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

Thirteen-year-old Patty Fulton of Omaha wants to go to school.

But not just any school, because Patty is deaf and almost blind.

The Nebraska Education Department wants to do something about it and has requested the Legislature appropriate $10,000 to send Patty to the Washington State School for the Blind in Vancouver, Wash.

State Education Commissioner Dr. Floyd A. Miller said, "We want to do all we can to help the child."

Jerry Regler, superintendent of the School for the Visually Handicapped at Nebraska City, where Patty is now enrolled, said it is his considered opinion that she must be enrolled in a specialized program for the deaf-blind if she is to realize her potential and eventually be independent.

No Adequate Program

"There is no program in Nebraska that is adequate for this girl," Regler said.

This same opinion is held by George Thompson, superintendent of the School for the Deaf at Omaha where Patty was a former student.

Specifically, Patty has a hearing loss of 70 decibels in both ears and a progressive eye disease—Retinitis Pigmentasa—that is causing her blindness.

She has suffered a hearing deficiency ever since she was 3 months old, and began wearing thick eye glasses at the age of 3. Now she reads lips and can make out some large print.

Little Hope

But doctors at the Universities of Nebraska and Iowa Medical Colleges have told her parents there is little hope.

Miller said the Washington State School is large enough to have all the specialized medical, psychological and therapeutic services necessary.

He noted the Education Department is requesting the $10,000 in accordance with School Law 43-601, which says:

"The State Board of Education may, at the expense of the state, make such provisions for the care and education of children from birth until completion of a suitable program of education but not to exceed 21 years of age who are both deaf and visually handicapped as the board may seem expedient."

Miller said to his knowledge the law has never been used to help deaf-blind youths obtain out-of-state help.

"But the fact remains that it is on the books and I think it a very good law," he said. "This child needs help and the state has asserted it is willing to help."

Space Clothes Prove Costly

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Being a well dressed man in space takes money.

A good suit of space clothes for a Gemini astronaut costs about $21,000. That's the price the manned spacecraft center paid the David Clark Co., Worcester, Mass., this week.

The center ordered 39 of the suits for the 16 astronauts at a price of $829,594.

Governor: Consider 4th's Meaning

Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday urged Nebraskans to pause and consider the significance of the Fourth of July and to drive safely over the holiday weekend.

"As bells throughout America ring out the message of freedom this Fourth of July, I ask all Nebraskans to pause in silence to listen to the message of the bells. Let us all be reminded of the true significance of our Fourth of July celebration.

"Let us all remember the American patriots who sacrificed their lives and fortunes that justice, humanity, equality and freedom could prevail throughout the land.

"Let us each renew our pledge of duty contained in the American's Creed to love our country—to support its Constitution—to respect our flag and to defend it against all enemies."

The governor also asked motorists to drive with their headlights on in the daytime so other motorists will know "that you are attempting to make this holiday trip safe and that you expect him to do the same for you."

He noted that in the last 3 years there have been an average of 300 accidents and 4 deaths in Nebraska over the Fourth of July holiday period.

Felony De.endants Need Not Plead In Preliminary Hearing

State Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer has advised county attorneys against requiring a defendant in a felony case to make a plea at his preliminary hearing.

The letter sent to all 93 county attorneys says the convictions may be overturned under a U. S. Supreme Court decision if the defendant makes a guilty or innoplea at the time of the preliminary hearing without an attorney.

The Supreme Court reversed a murder conviction in Maryland on the ground the rights of the defendant were violated by requiring him to enter a plea at the preliminary hearing. The case was known as White vs. Maryland.

Obvious Danger

"We understand that in some counties," Meyer wrote, "the practice is still being followed of requiring the defendant in felony cases to plead guilty or not guilty to the complaint. The danger in this practice is obvious from the court's opinion (in the White case).

"If the practice is being followed in your county, we would urge that you discuss the matter with the examining magistrate used in felony cases, and consider revising the procedure so that after the complaint is read, the defendant is only asked whether or not he desires to waive preliminary hearing . . ."

Meyer said the defendant "should not be asked at that time whether he is guilty or not guilty. Although the (White) opinion only refers to a defendant not represented by counsel, we suggest that that same procedure should be followed where he does have counsel present."

The practice of requiring a plea when the complaint is read has been optional with county attorneys.

Rasmussen Patents Ag Innovation

Hooper Sen. Ross Rasmussen has received his first patent for agricultural innovations and is on his way to a second.

Rasmussen said he has just received a method patent for setting concrete well casings.

"This procedure could cut critical time of well installation by 3 or 4 hours," he said.

He has been working on the idea since 1957 when he filed for the patent and hopes to sell the rights on a royalty basis.

The senator said he is working on a patent for production of dwarf blue grass which is in experimental use on the campuses of the Universities of Nebraska, Wyoming, Denver and the Air Force Academy.

Rasmussen farms 240 acres in Dodge County.

Omahans Escape Blazing Cruiser

Burlington, Iowa (AP)—A 30-foot cruiser caught fire as boaters attempted to start the craft on the Mississippi River a mile north of here. Four persons were hospitalized.

Police said the 4 jumped overboard after the explosion and then were rescued by an unidentified boater.

Admitted to a Burlington hospital were H. I. Helgesen, his son John, 9, both of Burlington, and Mason Maddus, 26, and Thomas Fischoff, 27, both of Omaha, Neb.

Conservation Officer Terry Goeltz sank the craft to avoid further damage when firemen were unable to reach it.

Johnson County Put On List Of Disaster Areas

Johnson County has been added to the list of those in Nebraska designated as disaster areas because of recent flooding, Maj. Gen. Lyle Welch, state director of Civil Defense, said Wednesday.

It became the 8th county to be named. Previously proclaimed disaster areas were Butler, Seward, Saunders, Saline, Gage, Otoe, and Lancaster Counties.

Johnson County was added to the list because of bridge losses.

Welch said preliminary estimates indicate the state will have more than $1 million flood damage. If this holds up, he said, Nebraska will qualify for federal aid.

Welch said all investigations of flood damage should be completed by Friday.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. # Fifteen American Golfers Must Qualify In England

Lytham and St. Annes, England (AP)—Fifteen Americans prepared Wednesday for qualifying stages Thursday and Friday for the British Open Golf Championship to be decided over the Royal Lytham and St. Annes links next week.

They are among 261 golfers called on to qualify over St. Annes Old Links and the Fairhaven layout for the privilege of joining exempted players in the championship.

This is a new idea for the British Open. Normally all players have to try their luck in qualifying Monday and Tuesday of the open week.

But this year the Royal and Ancient Club announced that 44 players would be exempt from qualifying.

The exempted players included defending champion Arnold Palmer, who is trying for his 3rd straight title, Jack Nicklaus, reigning U.S. Masters champion, and Gary Player, the South African who is 5th in the United States' money-winning list.

A total of 76 players will qualify making a total entry for the British Open of 120.

Leg Injury To Keep Maz Out Of Big Game

Cincinnati (AP) — Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh Pirate second baseman, was withdrawn Wednesday from the National League All-Star baseball squad because of a leg injury.

Alvin Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants who will pilot the National Leaguers in the annual All-Star game at Cleveland next Tuesday, named Larry Jackson, Chicago Cubs pitcher, as a numerical replacement for Mazeroski.

Mazeroski was one of 8 players named by a vote of the players to start the game. The players select all starters except the pitchers and the manager then names the hurlers and others to fill out a 25-man squad.

Dark's selections for the other spots on the squad will be announced Friday.

Mazeroski has not played regularly since mid-June because of the injury to his leg.

McKINLEY REACHES FINALS AGAINST AUSSIE STOLLE

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Chuck McKinley of St. Louis bounded into the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships Wednesday along with unseeded Fred Stolle of Australia, sending American hopes of winning the title for the first time since 1955 soaring sky high.

McKinley, the 22-year-old American No. 1 knocked out Wilhelm Bungert of Germany 6-2, 6-4, 8-2, in a semifinal match before 25,000 on a sunny day.

Stolle, 24-year-old Sydney bank clerk, followed by surprising everyone except himself as he whipped Manuel Santana, the No. 2 seed from Spain, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

McKinley made the finals for the second time in 3 years. He lost to Australian Rod Laver, now a pro, in 1961, No American male has won a Wimbledon singles title since Tony Trabert did it in 1955, although Alex Olmedo, a Peruvian who played for the U.S. in Davis Cup tennis, won in 1959.

Stolle is the second unseeded player to reach the final in two straight years. Last year Martin Mulligan of Australia was beaten by Laver.

Stolle and Bob Jewitt, also of Australia, won the doubles in 1962.

McKinley, 4th seeded, has not lost a set in 6 matches. He started fast against an obviously nervous Bungert—bidding to be the first German in the finals since Gottfried von Cramm in 1937—and was out of command only briefly, in the 3rd set.

McKinley, a student at Trinity University in San Antionio, Tex., served well and played his best tennis of the tournament against Bungert.

TOUGH SHOT . . . McKinley goes high for shot against Bungert.

His backhand was strong, he retrieved almost everything the German hit and he soared almost a yard in the air to hit smashes.

Powerful Serve

Stolle, who at 6-3 stands about half a foot taller than McKinley, packs a powerful serve. He knocked out Frank Froehling, the American No 2, on his way to the finals, and polished off Santana with a mixture of fine net volleys and clever lobs.

Santana had been rated the favorite for the title after Bungert put out top-seeded Roy Emerson in the quarterfinals. The German had earlier beaten the No. 8 seed, Mike Sangster of Britain.

Stolle's win meant that an Australian will figure in the Wimbledon final for the 8th straight year, an unprecedented string for one country since the early days of Wimbledon around the turn of the century.

'Quickly'

The American said he tried all the way to win his matches as quickly as possible. "That's a big help in a long tournament like this one," he said.

McKinley pounced right on Bungert, broke the German's first service and smothered Bungert's fine backhand. In the 3rd set, McKinley fell behind in the 12th game when he tried to finish off the match a little too quickly, but he staved off 3 set points.

"McKinley is the fastest man on court I've ever played," Bungert said. "He serves so quickly you can't tell whether he's going to hit to your forehand or backhand."

Doubles play occupied the rest of Wednesday's schedule. The team of Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., and Maria Bueno of Brazil made it to the semifinals in the women's doubles, 6-2, 6-1, over Robyn Lesh, Australia, and Jennifer Trewby of Britain.

Gain Semis

In men's doubles, Rafae Osuna and Antonia Palafox of Mexico, gained a place in the semifinals with a 6-3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4 win over the young Australian left-handers Tony Roche and Owen Davidson.

The Mexicans will play the unseeded British combination of Billy Knight and Mike Sangster in the semis.

Knight and Sangster eliminated the 4th-seeded Yugoslav pair of Boris Jovanovic and Nicole Pilic, last year's losing finalists, 3-6, 17-15, 8-6, 6-3.

Emerson and Santana, the No. 2 combination, are the only seeded team left in the men's doubles.

The 4th-seeded pair of Miss Bueno and Bob Howe of Australia were knocked out of the mixed doubles in a 5th round match by Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Carol Hanks, St. Louis, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Yanks Stretch AL Lead

New York Wins Second Straight From White Sox

New York (AP) —Tony Kubek's single to right field scored Hector Lopez with the winning run in the last of the 9th Wednesday as the New York Yankees made it two in a row over the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

Jim Brosnan had taken over for the Sox who tied the score in the top of the 9th on sloppy Yank defense and wildness by Hal Reniff. With one out, Lopez singled to left. Clete Boyer flied out, but Reniff walked. Kubek then broke up the game with his single.

The Yanks took a 4-3 lead into the 9th when their defense suddenly collapsed. Errors by Boyer and Kubek and an intentional fourth ball to pinch hitter Gary Peters on a 3-0 count loaded the bases.

Reniff, who had replaced Ralph Terry after the error by Boyer, walked Jim Landis, forcing in the tying run. Reniff got out of the inning when Hector Lopez caught Tommy McCraw's fly and doubled Al Weis at the plate.

Joe Pepitone's two-run homer, an inside-the-park job when Landis tripped and fell 10 feet short of the ball, climaxed a 3-run Yankee attack on John Buzhardt in the 6th.

BRIAN STERNBERG

Sternberg In Critical Condition

Seattle (AP)—The lithe, young collegian who has vaulted higher than anyone else in the the world lay in a hospital bed Wednesday paralyzed and numb from the neck down, his career ended and his life in danger.

Brian Sternberg, 20-year-old University of Washington sophomore, remained in critical condition after suffering dislocation of a cervical vertebra and possible damage to his spinal cord in a trampoline accident Tuesday night.

University Hospital said in a medical bulletin that Sternberg's condition has not changed and it will be another 24 to 36 hours before it can be determined if the paralysis is permanent.

"No surgery is planned at this time," the bulletin said. "He is paralyzed from the neck down and cannot feel anything below the neck. He is still in traction."

Sternberg, who has a pole vault mark of 16 feet, 8 inches up for recognition as a world record, was injured in a freak accident during a gymnastics workout. The vault was set at the Compton, Calif. Relays June 7.

He won the NCAA pole vaulting crown at 16-4¾ on June 15 and the Amateur Athletic Union championship at 16-4 on June 21, his 20th birthday.

Sternberg is a varsity letterman in gymnastics and a devotee of the trampoline, which he used as an aid to his vaulting. He was rated one of the top 10 trampolinists in the nation.

He was executing a flifis, or double back somersault with a twist, when he apparently lost control of his body while 14 feet in the air and fell heavily, landing on the back of his head and neck.

Sternberg was to have headed the pole vaulting contingent on the American track and field team named to compete against the Russians in Moscow July 20-21.

His place on the team will be offered to Ron Morris, 1962 AAU champion, who finished 3rd in the '63 meet at St. Louis. Morris is now in Europe to compete in the 3rd World Athletic Games at Helsinki, Finland, Thursday and Friday.

—KOUFAX WINS 13TH—

Bums Blank Cards Again

Los Angeles (AP) — Sandy Koufax fashioned a 3-hitter Wednesday night for his 7th shutout as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated St. Louis 5-0 and stretched their National League lead to 1½ games over the second-place Cardinals.

A crowd of 51,898 saw Los Angeles make it two straight over St. Louis.

The victory was No. 13 for Koufax against 3 defeats and his 7th shutout tied a Dodger club record shared by two old timers-Burleigh Grimes and Whitlow Wyatt.

The loser was Bob Gibson, 7-4.

Koufax struck out 9 batters, including pinch hitter Stan Musial in the 9th inning.

The Card hits were well spaced. Ken Boyer singled in the second, Bill White beat out a roller to Ken McMullen in the 4th and Curt Flood singled with one out in the 9th. Dick Groat hit into a doubleplay to end the game.

Los Angeles opened its scoring in the first. Maury Wills led off with a single, stole second—No. 20—and came in on a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis.

Gibson then blanked the Dodgers until the 6th. With two out, Los Angeles got two runs on singles by Wills, Wally Moon, Willie Davis and Tommy Davis.

Gerry's Cops 10th League Game, 7-0

. . . HERGENRADER FANS 17

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Gerry's of Lincoln throttled Columbus Wednesday night with a 7-0 Cornhusker Legion League victory.

Gerry's ace southpaw Bob Hergenrader hurled a two-hit shutout at the visitors by striking out 17 Columbus batters, while losing only one via a free pass.

Hergenrader started the game wildly giving up both of Columbus' hits and a wild pitch in the first frame. In the second he gave up his only walk and hit Columbus second baseman Leon Fickel with a pitch. The wrong-armer then settled down to retire 23 opposing hitters in order.

In the home half of the second, Bob McKay, Gerry's shortstop, reached base safely on Bob Hegi's error, stole second and scored on Bob White's single. The safety was one of a trio hit by White during the contest.

White scored McKay again in the 4th with his second single. McKay had walked and then advanced to scoring position with his second base theft of the evening.

Gerry's scored once more in the 5th before the real onslaught began.

In the 8th inning, Gerry's bats exploded. Columbus chucker, John Torczon walked Bob Shepard and Jody Moser before being relieved of his duties. Reliever Bixenmann hit Rich Schwabauer with a pitch filling the bases. McKay then smashed a long single to right field scoring Shepard and Moser. Columbus right fielder Jim Smith let the ball get by him and Schwabauer scampered home with the 3rd tally of the inning. McKay advanced to 3rd on Smith's miscue. Catcher White singled home McKay to end the scoring.

Columbus is now 7-6 overall and 4-5 in loop play. Gerry's record is 11-3 on the season and 10-1 in the league. Gerry's is lodged in first place in the new Cornhusker League.

Sidelights — Although striking out 17 Columbus hitters Gerry's ace — Hergenrader—was himself fanned in all 4 of his appearances at the plate. Columbus starter Torczon also struck out 3 times in 3 attempts.

Cigaret Cited As Probable Cause Of Fire

A discarded cigaret was the probable cause of a Tuesday fire which destroyed the press box on top of the grandstand at Sherman Field, 2nd and South, according to Chief Fire Inspector DeWayne McIntyre.

McIntyre Wednesday ruled out defective electrical wiring as the cause. The last man to leave the park shut off the electricity, McIntyre explained.

"Sportswriters are in the habit of stamping out cigarets on the floor in the press box," the inspector said. "There's a good possibility that was the cause."

However investigation is still under way.

McIntyre estimated damage from the fire at between $1,800 and $2,500.

He praised the work of responding firemen in saving the grandstand, explaining that only a limited supply of water was on hand.

"They must have eaten part of the blaze," McIntyre said. He stated firemen thought it was "goodbye ballpark" when they viewed the flames enroute.

Vaulx Risser, executive vice president of the Lincoln Baseball Club, said Wednesday the press box would be rebuilt as soon as an investigation is made by the insurance adjusters and settlement is made.

Controls for the scoreboard and public address system, which had been located in the press box, were moved Wednesday to the upper row of seats in the grandstand.

The scoreboard and public address system were ready for operation again for Wednesday night's American Legion Junior game between Gerry's and Columbus.

Raschke 3rd In World Mat Tournament

Helsingborg, Sweden (AP)—James Raschke, 21-year-old senior at the University of Nebraska, took 3rd place in the heavy-weight division to give the United States its only medal in the World Greco-Roman Wrestling Championships.

The American got his 7th penalty point and was eliminated in the 5th round when he lost a decision to Russia's Anatoly Roschin, the eventual champion. The Russian outpointed Sweden's Ragnar Svensson in the deciding match.

The Russians wound up winning 4 of the 8 gold medals and taking the team championship with 37.5 points to 19 for runner-up Hungary and 18 for 3rd place Yugoslavia.

Braves Nip SF By 6-5

San Francisco (AP) — Henry Aaron slammed his 23rd home run to spark a 6-run 6th inning uprising for Milwaukee as the Braves overcame San Francisco 6-5 Wednesday.

Three home runs staked Giants' starter Jack Sanford to a 4-0 lead — Willie Mays' 16th in the second inning, Harvey Kuenn's 3rd with one aboard in the 3rd and Willie McCovey's 19th in the 5th.

Sanford carried a two-hitter into the 6th but Lee Maye opened with a double down the right field line. Aaron crashed his home run with one out, Joe Torre singled, Eddie Mathews walked and Gene Oliver singled home Torre.

Dennis Menke greeted reliever Don Larsen with a two-run double off McCovey's glove in the left-field corner, then scored on a wild pitch and Del Crandall's squeeze bunt.

Sanford, 9-8, lost his 3rd straight decision in his search for victory No. 10. Frank Funk, who pitched a one-run inning of relief, gained his 3rd victory against two losses.

Tom Haller of the Giants narrowed the gap with his 8th home run in the 7th inning.

Rose's Score Helps Redlegs

. . . REDS DOWN COLTS

Houston (AP) — Cincinnati's Pete Rose scored all the way from first base on a pickoff attempt that misfired and gave the Reds the run they needed to edge the Houston Colts 2-1 Wednesday night behind the two-hit pitching of John Tsitouris.

The Reds also were held to two hits—but one was a 5th inning homer by catcher Johnny Edwards off Colts starter Jim Umbricht, who allowed both Cincinnati hits, left for a pinch hitter in the 5th.

With reliever Hal Woodeshick pitching in the 6th inning, Rose led off with a walk. Two outs later Woodeshick fired to first baseman Rusty Staub in an attempt to pick off Rose, but Staub let the ball get by him and Rose raced home as the ball rolled to the stands.

The Reds' only other hit was a 4th inning single by Vada Pinson,, who extended the longest hitting streak in the majors this season to 21 games.

Tsitouris, bringing his record to 4-2, did not allow a hit after the 3rd inning when the Colts put together a single by Al Spangler, his steal of second and a single by Johnny Temple for their only run.

Woodeshick took the loss, his 4th against 8 victories, despite holding the Reds hitless in the three innings he less in the 3 innings he worked.

Detroit's Bunning Stops Twins Wins

Detroit (AP) — Jim Bunning, with home run support from Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash, stopped the Minnesota Twins' 8-game winning streak Wednesday by pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 7-5 victory.

The defeat dropped the second-place Twins 4 games behind the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race.

Bunning entered the 9th with a 4 hitter and had struck out 11. He weakened after the Twins scored two runs and Terry Fox preserved his victory.

Fox got the final out with the bases loaded.

The Tiger right-hander had a 7-0 lead before the Twins came back in the final 3 innings with two homers by Jimmy Hall and a two-run pinch hit homer by Vic Wertz.

The Tigers erupted for 3-run rallies in the 4th and 5th innings. McAuliffe connected for the first hit off loser Jim Perry with a leadoff homer in the 4th. Cash followed Rocky Colavito's double with a two-run homer.

Al Kaline singled home one run in the 5th and Colavito's single brought in two more runs.

Hall's homer and Earl Battey's single accounted for the two Twin's runs in the 9th.

Orioles' Barber Injured; To Miss All-Star Contest

Baltimore (AP) — Baltimore pitcher Steve Barber will have to miss the All-Star game Tuesday in Cleveland, the Orlioles' team physician said Wednesday.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, club physician, said the left-hander would be out of action for a week or 10 days. Barber was one of 7 pitchers named by Manager Ralph Houk to the American League All-Star team.

Barber, who has compiled a 12-5 record this season, tore a muscle in his right calf in a first-base collision with Los Angeles Angels pitcher Paul Foytack Tuesday night. Barber was running out a grounder.

Mets Lose 5th Straight

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Cubs rode an 8-run 3rd inning to a 9-2 conquest of the New York Mets Wednesday, with lefty Dick Ellsworth winning his 11th game. It was the Mets' 5th straight loss.

The Cubs sent 12 batters to the plate to account for their second biggest inning of the season, blending 6 hits with 3 walks off a trio of New York pitchers. Chicago's previous high inning was 10, also against the Mets in New York May 30.

Ellsworth, a 20-game loser last season, yielded 6 hits going the route for the 8th time in 18 starts.

Rookie Leads Canadian Open

Toronto (AP) — Slender young Ed Moehling, a rookie on the professional circuit, stroked a blistering 5-under-par 66 Wednesday and took a 3-stroke lead in the first round of the Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

Moehling, a 6-foot-3, 180-pounder from Mt. Prospect, Ill., who turned professional last October, had 5 birdies, an eagle and two bogies in his round over the 6,419-yard, par 36-35-71 Scarboro Golf Club course.

Moehling, who has earned only $250 in official money winnings this year, exhibited strong control and a blazing putter in his round that was only two strokes off the course record. He was never in the rough and took only 24 putts.

Trailing the youngster were 3 veteran touring pros. Doug Ford, former PGA and Masters champ, Tommy Aaron, a playoff loser at Cleveland Monday, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., each came in with a 69.

A half dozen others were grouped at 70s and 9 others had 71 as 19 from the field of 156 matched or beat par in the clear, cool weather. A 20-mile-an-hour wind blew most of the day.

Grouped at 70s were Claude King, Virginia Beach, Calif.; Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif.; who had an eagle on the 18th, Herman Keiser, Berberton, Ohio; Bob Rosberg, Portland, Ore.; George Bayer, Pasadena, and Ron Weber, Bayside, Calif.

Many of the top names on the professional circuit, including the Big 3—Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—and U.S. Open champion Julius Boros skipped the tourney for the British Open or to fill personal commitments.

Error, Johnson's Hit Boost Baltimore, 3-1

Baltimore (AP)—A 3-run 3rd inning built around Bob Johnson's two-run single and an error by Leon Wagner carried the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Wednesday night.

Baltimore jumped on Angels starter Dean Chance in the 3rd after Albie Pearson's homer in the top of the inning had given Los Angeles a 1-0 lead.

Luis Aparicio got the Orioles started with a double and Russ Snyder beat out a slow grounder while Aparicio held second. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and scored when Johnson singled to left field.

Johnson reached second on the throw to the plate and continued to third when Wagner's throw hit Snyder and rolled away. Jim Gentile then lofted a high fly that fell in front of Wagner for a double, enabling Johnson to score.

Knapp Saves Roberts' Win At Beatrice

Beatrice—A nifty relief performance by Rick Knapp saved a 4-3 Roberts' win over Beatrice here Wednesday night.

Knapp came in after Beatrice had pulled to within one run at 4-3 in the bottom of the 5th and had runners on first and 3rd with only one out. The Robert's reliefer retired the next two batters and didn't allow a hit in the next two innings to pick up credit for his second win against one loss this season.

The big blow for Roberts' attack was a two-run double by Mike Jennings in a 3-run 5th inning.

WBA Split On Ortiz's Lightweight Title

Providence, R.I. (AP) — The World Boxing Association appeared split Wednesday on whether Carlos Ortiz is or isn't the world lightweight champion.

Tony Petronella, the chairman of the WBA's Rating Committee, said the committee voted 14-1 in a poll in favor of maintaining the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker as champion until he receives a hearing at the WBA's annual convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Aug. 17-21.

In making the announcement Wednesday, Petronella also released the monthly ratings which listed Ortiz as champion and Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., as the No. 1 contender. Further the rankings committee warned Lane that if he didn't get busy and fight he would lose that to position.

But in Tacoma, Wash., Dr. Charles P. Larson, president of the WBA, said as far as he knew Ortiz still was stripped of recognition.

Larson said only the championship regulation committee headed by Emile Bruneau of New Orleans or the WBA executive committee could reinstate Ortiz and to the best of his knowledge neither one had.

He said Ortiz had been notified he could appear at a hearing next month if he wished to appeal the WBA's action.

In New Orleans, on being advised of Petronella's statement, Bruneau said he has been ill for the past 10 days and was completely out of touch with the situation.

"I don't understand it," he said.

"It will have to be taken up with Dr. Larson and the legal department.

Radatz Wins 8th For Bosox

Cleveland (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke a 2-2 tie with 4 runs in the 9th inning Wednesday and beat the Cleveland Indians 6-2, giving ace reliever Dick Radatz his 8th victory. Radatz struck out 6 of the 11 batters he faced.

Chuck Schilling blooped a double to center with one out in the 9th off Bob Allen and scored the tie-breaking run on Gary Geiger's single.

Sunday Closing Law Passed

Beginning next fall, most merchants in Nebraska can expect to be prohibited from selling approximately 65 designated commodities on Sunday.

A Sunday closing law as provided in LB710 was passed 26-13 by the State Legislature Wednesday and goes next to Gov. Frank Morrison for signature which would place the law in effect three months after Unicameral adjournment.

Passage came despite an attorney general's view that one section of the bill, a "mom and pop" store exemption, is unconstitutional.

The bill contains a "savings clause" so that if any section is held invalid, the remainder of the bill will continue intact and in force.

Under the exemption, stores operated by no more than two full time persons (husband and wife owners, for instance) and one part time employe are exempt from the restrictions on Sunday selling and could operate seven days a week if desired.

An opinion by the attorney general's office that this exemption is unconstitutional was circulated Tuesday by Sen. Dale Payne of Papillion, a foe of the bill.

As passed, LB710 also provides that merchants who conscientiously observe Saturday as their Sabbath may restrict their selling on Saturday instead of Sunday.

Items barred from Sunday sale include such things as clothing and wearing apparel, housewares, household equipment and supplies, furniture, appliances, hardware, tools, paints, food for consumption away from the premises, building materials, jewelry, luggage, musical instruments, toys, radios, television sets, record players, sporting goods except for use on the premises, cameras, business machines, optical goods, yard goods, sewing supplies and pet supplies.

Senators voting for approval of LB710 on final reading included Bowen, Brandt, Bridenbaugh, Claussen, Danner, Forrester, Foster, Gerdes, Gerhart, Gottschalk, Hasebroock, Klaver, Kremer, Lysinger, Mahoney, Marvel, Moulton, E. Rasmussen, Reeves, Ruhnke, Russillo, Skarda, Stalder, Stryker, Thompson and Warner.

Voting against LB710 were Adamson, Bahensky, Burbach, Carpenter, Craft, Kjar, McGinley, Nelson, Payne, R. Rasmussen, Stromer, Syas and Wylie.

Not voting: Damrow, Erlewine, Fleming, Orme.

The bill was sponsored by Sens. Maurice Kremer of Aurora and T. C. Reeves of Central City.

Also passed was a harried measure, LB370, increasing from $540 to $840 per year the payments to reserve teachers and making more of such retired teachers eligible for the benefits.

LB370 earlier had failed on final reading but on a reconsideration, won 23-13 approval.

Bills passed Wednesday (E—emergency clause):

LB370 (Klaver, Syas, Danner, Orme, Mahoney)—Increasing from $540 to $840 per year the payments to reserve teachers, and making more of these retired teachers eligible for the benefits. (23-13).

LB717 (Brandt, Ruhnke)—Changing the name of the "Department of Agriculture and Inspection" to "Department of Agriculture and Economic Development." (36-3).

LB666 (Marvel, Orme, Gerdes)—Creating a State Educational Television Fund to consist at the outset of $600,000 appropriated from the General Fund. (30-8).

LB710 (Kremer, Reeves) — Prohibiting the selling on Sunday of approximately 65 commodities, but exempting stores with two full time and one part time worker or less, and permitting compliance on Saturday instead of Sunday by those who observe Saturday as their Sabbath. (26-13).

LB236 (Hasebroock, Gerhart, Orme, Wylie, Erlewine) — Establishing new rules covering state purchasing, eliminating the "Standards and Specifications Committee," and increasing the salary of the purchasing agent from $7,500 to $8,500 per year. (38-2).

Review Board Resolves Power Assessment, Expenditure Problem

The Nebraska Power Review Board Wednesday resolved the problem of assessing power districts and municipalities to defray its operating expenses.

Approved unanimously was a motion to define gross income under LB220, the bill creating the board, as all electric service revenues including rent from electric properties and the sale of steam, but excluding irrigation revenues.

The bill stipulates the cost of the board will be borne by an annual assessment on the districts and municipalities gross income.

A problem arose when several districts questioned whether irrigation and steam revenues should be included.

The board tackled the problem during its first two meetings, failing to come up with an answer.

"This problem has gone on long enough," Clair Callan of O'Dell, chairman, told the board at the opening of Wednesday's meeting. "We must establish a specific definition."

The municipalities and districts have been assessed on a formula of 33⅓ cents for every $1,000 gross income.

William Norton of Osceola, vice chairman, noted irrigation revenues are entirely different from electricity revenues and "the intent of the law is to tax only electricity."

The board also adopted a motion directing each municipality and power district to designate one person to sign all applications submitted.

"This procedure will give us a sense of direction concerning who we can direct our questions to," Norton said.

The board also went over LB220 section by section in an attempt to interpret its specific meaning in certain areas, mainly the granting of permission for extension of retail transmission lines.

Approved then were 4 routine transmission line extension applications.

Callan instructed the board to watch closely a pending court case concerning a power dispute between the city of Auburn and the city of Peru.

"We may be called upon to settle this dispute," he said.

Auburn has filed a suit in Lancaster District Court asking a contract to furnish electrical power to Peru State Teachers College be declared valid.

The petition also asks the court to hold the city of Peru has no exclusive rights to furnish power to the college by virtue of LB220 or otherwise.

If the court rules the contract invalid, the review board will be confronted with the problem.

The case evolved when the State Normal Board in 1962 called for bids to furnish power to the college beginning April 20, 1964, when its contract with the city of Peru terminates.

Auburn, Peru and Nebraska City submitted bids. Auburn's proposal was accepted and a 5-year contract was let in March.

This April, Auburn asked the Department of Water Resources for approval to build a transmission line, but before the permission could be granted, LB220 took effect, depriving the department of jurisdiction over the application.

LB220 provides that a municipality with its own electrical system has preference in serving an area outside its corporate limits but within its zoning jurisdiction.

Auburn says Peru has threatened injunction proceedings on the grounds LB220 forecloses the extension of Auburn transmission lines and invalidates the Auburn contract.

Revised Time Sales Act Advanced By Legislators

Nebrasak's Legislature gave 26-2 first round approval Wednesday to a revised version of the Nebraska Instalment Sales Act of 1959, which the State Supreme Court last Friday held to be unconstitutional.

The new bill, LB811, removes from the act a rate section to which the court took exception on grounds it set varying time price differentials on different types of merchandise.

The replacement section sets a maximum differential of $15 per $100 per year, without regard to the type merchandise being sold.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff recommended the Legislature pass some kind of a resolution calling on the high court—by summoning itself into a special summer session if necessary—to make an early determination of the constitutionality of the new bill.

Until the law is declared valid, "you've got nothing," he said.

Sen. Fred O. Gottschalk of Columbus, who spearheaded the introduction and general file approval of LB811, said he would be happy to introduce such a resolution if one can be drawn but said the Legislature's bill drafter had counselled against it.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth was rebuffed 7-27 in an attempt to write into the bill a sliding scale of maximum charges. He proposed $15 per $100 per year on amounts up to $300; $12 on $300 to $500; $9 on $500 to $1,000, and $6 on amounts over $1,000.

Ruhnke said the figures would put the charges in line with interest under the Small Loan Act. A flat maximum of $15 per $100 "is almost without ceiling," he said.

But Sen. Gottschalk said the Ruhnke amendment would not work, would make of it "strictly an interest bill," and "you might as well just kill the bill."

"This is not a loan or an interest bill," he explained. "It concerns itself entirely with the time sales credit."

Gottschalk also took the occasion to criticize the Supreme Court for "ignoring the intent of this Legislature." He said the court in its review of cases has ignored the contents of written contracts altogether while giving heavy weight to the word of the buyer.

Ruhnke was joined by Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala in voting against advancement of the bill from general file.

The Installment Sales Act is designed to write into law the long-held time sales concept—that a seller can offer merchandise at one price for cash, a higher price for sale on time, and the difference between the two prices does not constitute interest if the facts are clearly understood by the buyer.

Before advancing LB811 from general file, lawmakers assented to a Sen. Carpenter amendment under which any person or firm utilizing the act would need to take out a license. Under the 1959 act, any person or firm already licensed to engage in financing automatically became eligible to use the new act without a special license.

Decker Zeroes In On Budget

. . . CHALLENGES CARRYOVER APPRAISAL

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Dr. F. B. Decker, coordinator of the state's teachers colleges, Wednesday took issue with the Budget Committee's apparent appraisal of the colleges' carryover balances for the new biennium.

In a letter to Budget Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings, Decker wrote:

"It is obvious that we apparently are getting nowhere in our attempts to have the Budget Committee recommend an increase in the tax fund allocation to the state teachers colleges.

"Unfortunately, so much of the information that is flying back and forth between us has been based on knowledge gathered from newspaper and radio accounts." Decker wrote, that "in fairness to our colleges" he was submitting written information "for whatever it might be worth."

Decker said the Normal Board does not argue with the carryover balance figure as such of $436,137 as of July 1, but he stated that only $244,768 of that figure represented an unencumbered balance as of July 1.

He noted that much has been made of the board's underestimate of $190,000 in its cash receipts for the 1961-63 biennium, but noted also that the colleges' budgets are prepared "almost 3 years in advance of the final spending period."

In his letter, Decker noted several steps the Normal Board has taken during the past two years to help the financial situation of the colleges—elimination of campus schools at Chadron and Wayne, elimination of a long-standing scholarship program, and tuition hikes.

"All of this was done in an attempt to keep our colleges on a financially sound basis and to keep faith with the Legislature, which had suggested an increase in tuition.

"We felt that we had done everything humanly possible to help our financial situation. All of these efforts have apparently gotten us nowhere, as reflected by the tax fund increase ($94,370) recommended for us for the coming biennium," Decker wrote.

He concluded by requesting that the committee give them a "detailed breakdown of our expenditures and receipts that were used to arrive at the figures that you recommend for our colleges so that we might attempt to build our budgets on those figures rather than the ones that we have used.

"Only with this detailed information can we adjust our figures to correspond with yours," Decker stated.

$88.4 Million Railroad Valuation Shows Drop

The State Board of Equalization Wednesday set the total assessed valuation of all railroads operating in Nebraska at $88,403,061, a decrease of $688,604 from the valuation set last year.

The board determined the valuation on the same formula used last year. The drop of .77% was attributed to an over-all decline in railroad business.

Only one of the 11 railraods (6 major and 5 minor firms) operating in the state showed an increase in its valuation over 1962. Union Pacific's assessed valuation was increased by $439,745.

Valuations Listed

The assessed valuations of each railroad (comparative figures for 1962 shown in parentheses):

Union Pacific: $45,908,951 ($45,469,206).

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy: $34,760,495 ($35,159,890).

Rock Island: $1,627,543 ($1,662,359).

Missouri Pacific: $1,706,699 ($1,875,868).

Chicago and North Western: $3,881,687 ($4,399,599).

Illinois Central: $53,221 ($56,623).

Wabash: $21,345 ($21,515).

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe: $6,155 ($6,205).

Chicago and Great Western: $120,880 ($121,830).

South Omaha Terminal: $302,570 ($304,950).

Omaha, Lincoln & Beatrice: $13,515 ($13,620).

The board also set the Pullman assessment at $125,085, a decrease of $7,835 under the 1962 figure of $132,920.

In other action the board agreed to set assessments of various franchises on the basis of the formula used last year and will meet Friday or Monday to take formal action on the figures when the tax commissioner has the totals computed.

Fiscal Staff For Governor Eyed

A resolution calling on the governor to submit the proposals and ask for the money to provide himself with a full-time fiscal staff was adopted 24-10 by the Legislature Wednesday.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff brought in the resolution, No. 20, Feb. 22 but it had not previously been acted upon.

Carpenter noted the constitution requires the governor to submit a proposed state budget to the Legislature but he lacks the resources adequately to do so and winds up "going through the motions."

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, Budget Committee chairman, said he favored the resolution but pointed out that the pending budget bill already includes provision for $53,500 to set up a fiscal staff in the tax commissioner's office.

United States and Canadian citizens can finance a summer in Germany with jobs arranged by the German Government.

20th Interim Study Is Approved

The Legislature Wednesday approved its 20th— and apparently last — Legislative Council interim study, an inquiry into equalization of farm and livestock taxation.

An amended version of Resolution 55 won 24-0 endorsement. The action overruled a Legislative Council executive board recommendation.

In its original form, as introduced by Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, the resolution sought a probe into taxation of livestock.

In its final form, as amended by Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, the study will be broadened to look into livestock taxtion and situs, personal farm property and a comparison of farm taxes with business schedules.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman of the Legislative Council, announced that the executive board will recommend that the inquiry be combined with two other approved tax studies.

They include administration and enforcement of the property tax, and taxation of intangible property.

All 3 would be handled by a single committee with 3 different chairmen.

The executive board will recommend committee chairmen and members next week.

State Lawmakers Put Off Considering Rule Changes

The Legislature Wednesday put off until next week consideration of rules changes proposed by the Rules Committee.

The committee has recommended that the Unicameral be informed in future sessions as to how each committee member votes on a bill in executive session.

Present rules allow only a report on the total vote count, without recording individual votes.

The change was proposed by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha.

Klaver also proposed that discussion of members in executive session be made public, but the committee struck this provision.

Realignment Look

The committee rejected a Klaver plan to realign membership on the Committee on Committees but named a subcommittee composed of Sens. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel and Michael Russillo of Omaha to develop an alternative plan.

Also rejected was a proposal by Sen. Clifton Foster of Bradshaw to require that the Budget Committee report its appropriations bill to the floor by May 1 of each session.

Recommended was a change suggested by Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, requiring that the new matter in bills embodying proposed constitutional amendments be underlined as in other bills.

Buffalohead, 102, Dies; Spent Early Days In Nebraska

Ponca City, Okla. (AP) — Mark Buffalohead died at his home southwest of here Monday, a month short of his 103rd birthday.

Buffalohead made two trips with the Ponca Indians from Nebraska to Indian Territory. The first was in 1869 when the tribe was relocated in the Niami area.

The Poncas later returned to Nebraska. Buffalohead returned to Indian Territory in 1875 when the Poncas came to this area under the leadership of Chief White Eagle, last hereditary blood chief of the Poncas.

Early Western Wheat Running Near 30 Bus.

Scottsbluff (AP) — The first wheat of the 1963 harvest season arrived at the Nile Valley Co-Operative Grain Co. in Scottsbluff.

The wheat from the Joe Horn farm south of McGrew weighed 60½ pounds and had a moisture content of 9.38%. Horn estimated his yield at between 30 and 35 bushels per acre.

Stock Market Posts Second Straight Gain

New York (AP) — Showing unexpected strength for a preholiday session, the stock market Wednesday posted its second straight advance. Trading was moderately active. Oils were strong.

The stock markets will be closed Thursday for Independence Day and this will mean a 4-day weekend for many Wall Streeters, even though trading will be resumed Friday.

The market made another fairly sharp advance as volume rose to 4.02 million shares from Tuesday's 3.54 million. An increase in volume on rising prices is always encouraging to those who hope for a higher trend.

Analysts regarded it as a continuation of Tuesday's advance. Consistent buying in the investment-grade oils as well as those which seemed to offer chances of a "special situation" in the future gave the market steady leadership throughout the day.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.42 to 713.36, putting it well above the "support level" of 700 from which it bounced in the current recovery movement.

In a wider market of 1,307 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 704 to 369. New highs outnumbered new lows for the year by 36 to 9—the first time since June 25 that the plus signs were above minuses in this category.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.2 to 272.8 with industrials up 2.0, rails up .8, and utilities up .3.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 870,000 shares compared with 960,000 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were irregular in light trading. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Soybean Futures Strengthened By Flurry Of Buying

Chicago (AP) — Soybean futures swung over a broad price range Wednesday after a delayed opening on the Board of Trade but finished steady to strong on a late flurry of buying. The grains ranged from strong to weak.

The start of soybean trading was held up 1 hour and 30 minutes, until 11 a.m., because of swamped bookkeeping departments in brokerage firms as a result of the unusually heavy late transactions Tuesday.

In most of the firms, clerks had worked all night to balance accounts of sales and purchases in the pit but had not finished the task by the regular opening time of 9:30 a.m. Brokers said the late trade on Tuesday had been so rapid that many transactions had not been recorded on both sides. In some instances, the buyer's record was incomplete and in some others the seller failed to show the other half of the deal.

Trade volume for the day was a whopping 149 million bushels for soybeans alone. It exceeded the previous record for a single day by more than 26 million bushels. The old record was set on May 4, 1961 during the most spectacular bull market on the exchange in many years.

Wheat closed 1 cent a bushel lower to 1 cent higher, July $1.84¾-⅞; corn ½-2 cents higher, July $1.29⅜-½; oats ⅜ lower to ⅜ higher, July 67¼-⅜ cents; rye ½ higher to ½ lower, July $1.28¼; soybeans unchanged to 3 cents higher, July $2.69½-70¼.

Female Prisoners' Drilling For Talking, Not Escaping

Drilling operations by women prisoners at the Lincoln city jail came to a halt Wednesday.

Police found a hole 8 to 10 inches deep and two inches in diameter in a cell wall extending from the women's quarters toward federal prisoner cells.

Officers said the effort was definitely not an escape attempt. Police Chief Joe Carroll said he thought the women wanted to talk to the men in the federal block, "and vice versa."

Prisoners normally talk from the two cell sections by yelling around the windows at each other. But they are unable to see one another.

Investigation and shakedowns revealed two sharpened spoons, a twisted coat hanger wire and an 18 inch iron bar. Police thought these may have been used in the drilling.

Detective Capt. Eugene Henninger said the effort had been underway for about 6 months.

Active Alumnus Of NU Seriously Ill In Washington

At Lundeen, prominent Seattle attorney and active University of Nebraska alumnus, Thursday was reported in serious condition at the Swedish Hospital in Seattle, Wash.

Lundeen was hospitalized this week following a coronary thrombosis, accompanied by a severe fall.

A 1913 graduate, Lundeen has been an active supporter of the University and participated this year in spring alumni activities.

Car Homicide Case Delayed Until Friday

A preliminary hearing on charges of motor vehicle homicide against Merrill M. Brennan, 38, of 1011 Peach, was continued until 2:30 p.m. Friday when argument on a motion for dismissal of the charge against Brennan will be presented by Atty. Hyman Polsky.

Judge Ralph Slocum continued the Wednesday hearing in County Court after hearing testimony from 4 state's witnesses on the June 1 accident which took the life of Lana Eden, 16, of 4600 Eden Circle.

Polsky made his motion to dismiss the charges against Brennan, listing several causes for his action, and requested the right to present his motion in writing to the court.

Testimony was given Wednesday by Dr. E. D. Zeman, pathologist at St. Elizabeth Hospital, who performed the autopsy on Miss Eden; Lynn Lee Edwards, 16, of 5555 A, driver of the small foreign car in which Miss Eden was riding; Deputy Sheriff Paul Nowakowski, who investigated the accident on West Van Dorn, and Safety Patrolman Vernon O'Neal, who took photographs of the accident scene.

The Eden and Edwards girls were driving west on Van Dorn when the Edwards car was in collision with an eastbound station wagon driven by Brennan. Miss Eden died at the hospital several hours later.

South Sioux City Youth, 17, Drowns

South Sioux City (UPI)—A 17-year-old South Sioux City youth drowned late Wednesday afternoon in Crystal Lake here.

He was identified as Joseph Jackson.

Dakota County Sheriff Harold Niebuhr said the body had not been recovered and that dragging operations would be suspended until early Thursday.

He said Jackson and 3 other teenage youths had been playing in the water with a giant rubber innertube. He said the tube flipped over and all the youths started swimming for shore. The companions said Jackson disappeared and they were unable to locate him.

The others, identified as Ron Cardwell of South Sioux City, Tony Drake and Harold Smith, both of Sioux City, Iowa, all 16, made it safely to shore and notified authorities.

Iowan Enters Innocent Plea

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP) — Lean Tice Jr., 23, of Council Bluffs, pleaded innocent Wednesday when arraigned in Municipal Court on a charge of murder in the slaying of a 2-year-old boy and a 14-year-old girl.

Tice waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury. He is being held without bond.

Tice was accused of the fatal shooting June 21 of Randy Burtness and Judy Jackson. The boy was the son of Mrs. JoAnn Burtness and the girl was the woman's sister.
